MOSCOW PUBLISHES MUTUAL ASSISTANCE PACT WITH MONGOLIA

Soviet Union Given Right to Adopt All Measures Deemed Necessary in Case Attack on Mongolian Territory Threatened—Chinese Government Sends Formal Protest to Russia

MOSCOW, April 8 (AP).—The text of the Soviet-Mongolian Mutual Assistance Pact—a document considered of great importance in the Far Eastern situation, was published here today. The pact puts into writing an agreement existing for more than a year, and approved by the Outer Mongolian Republic on March 28.

It gives the Soviet Union the right to adopt, in accord with Mongolia, "all measures necessary" in case of even a "menace" of an attack on Mongolian territory. The stated purpose of the pact is not just to resist attacks, but to "prevent" them.

At the same time, Japan remained silent on the Soviet statement, of more than a week ago, that drastic measures might be required to settle disputes along the Mongolian-Manchukuan frontier.

CHINA PROTESTS

NANKING, China, April 7 (AP).—China, protesting to Moscow, announced tonight she would, under no circumstances, recognize the pact of mutual assistance between Soviet Russia and Outer Mongolia, signed March 12.

The Chinese National Government, which claims Outer Mongolia as a portion of China, disclosed it is forwarding a formal protest to Russia.

Following the Foreign Office's announcement, the Japanese consulate disclosed it had informed the National Government today that Japan is giving "close attention" to the Soviet-Mongolian pact.

PROSECUTION OF BANDITS ENDED

Fred Healy Found Guilty in Powell Street Bank Holdup Case

VANCOUVER, April 7 (CP).—With another conviction and a dismissal in Assize Court today, the Crown closed its prosecution of the Powell Street branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce holdup last January, when William H. Hobbs, teller, was fatally shot.

After deliberating only fifteen minutes, an Assize Court jury convicted Fred Healy, forty-one-year-old former taxi-driver, of being an accessory after the fact through helping the bandits to escape from the bank. He was remanded to the end of the assizes for sentence by Chief Justice Aulay Morrison.

CHARGE WITHDRAWN

A charge of being an accessory against Walter Davies was withdrawn by the Crown prosecutor, who said that while evidence showed the accused had associated with the bank bandits, there was insufficient to warrant his being put on trial.

Earl Dunbar and Charles Russell were convicted last week of the actual holdup of the bank and shooting of the teller. They were sentenced to hang at Oakalla Jail on June 19. Their counsel, however, indicated they would appeal.

Two others, Jack Hyslop and George Lawson, who were sought after the holdup, shot themselves to death in their East End hideout a week after the crime when surrounded by police.

Commander at Jutland Is Dead

LYMINGTON, Hampshire, April 7 (AP).—Vice-Admiral Anselan John Buchanan-Stirling, sixty, who commanded the British destroyer flotilla during the Battle of Jutland, died at his home tonight.

Vice-Admiral Stirling had retired five years ago, after more than forty-five years' service in the Royal Navy. He served during the Boxer uprising in China, was severely wounded and invalided home. He was made a rear-admiral in 1926, assigned as commodore-in-charge at Hongkong, and in 1927 was made admiral superintendent of the Chatham Dockyard.

DRIVING TO ADDIS ABABA

Italian Commander Reports Troops Well on Way to Next Objective

(Copyright, 1936, by Havas News Agency)

ITALIAN GENERAL HEADQUARTERS, Northern Ethiopia, April 7.—The drive toward Dessye and Addis Ababa is well under way, with Cobbo as Marshal Pietro Badoglio's next important objective, the High Command announced here tonight.

Cobbo is forty miles south of Alamada and about eighty-five miles north of Dessye. It lies at the junction of the "Imperial Highway" to Addis Ababa and an important caravan route branching eastward.

Italy's white and native troops are in pursuit of disorganized rearguard forces from Emperor Haile Selassie's army following yesterday's victory at Alamada, Marshal Badoglio stated.

REASSURING EGYPT

ROME, April 7 (AP).—Conversations to reassure Egypt that her water rights in the Lake Tana region in Ethiopia would be respected began today between Fulvio Suvich, Italian under-secretary of state, and the Egyptian minister.

An exchange of notes shortly was expected. Italian troops recently reached the Lake Tana area, where are the headwaters of the Blue Nile, furnishing much of the water supply for the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan and Egypt.

THIRTEEN KILLED IN TRAIN WRECK

Bridge Bombed in Mexico in Attempt on Lives of Politicians—Eighteen Injured

VERA CRUZ, Mexico, April 7 (AP).—A desperate attempt to kill State of Vera Cruz political leaders was blamed by authorities tonight for the bombing of a railway bridge and wrecking of the Vera Cruz-Mexico City train, which resulted in the death of at least thirteen persons and injury to eighteen others.

The politicians themselves were unharmed.

A search for other victims was continued tonight in the mass of twisted and charred steel, where Pullman cars plunged into a 400-foot ravine last night.

Tracing 200 yards of double wire from the bridge investigators found the apparatus which exploded the bomb by electricity, setting off the charge exactly between the first and second Pullman cars.

The hostess-nurse, Miss Nellie H. Granger, gave first aid to the survivors before she made her way to the farmhouse, there to report that only Mrs. Meyer C. Ellenstein, wife of the mayor of Newark, N.J., and Charles G. Challinor, of Cleveland, were alive.

The plane, flying from New York to Pittsburgh, struck near the highest summit of the Pennsylvania Alleghenies, where the ceiling of visibility was absolutely zero

Easter Token to Up-Island Hospital Patients

Patients of hospitals at Duncan, Nanaimo, Alberni, Comox, Cumberland and Ladysmith today will receive 200 dozen daffodils with cordial Easter greetings from Victoria. The flowers were grown and donated by Dirk Van der Bent, shown above with Mrs. David Leeming, packing them for shipment. Officials of the Tourist Trade Development Association arranged the gift, and the flowers were carried by Vancouver Island Coach Lines, Ltd., through courtesy of Harold Husband. A shipment of 130 dozen daffodils was also sent to patients of Ottawa hospitals, and will arrive there before Good Friday.

Zamora Is Ousted From Presidency of Spain by Parliament of Republic

Leftists Win Smashing Victory by Demanding Leader Be Deprived of Office

RIOTING CONTINUES IN TWO PROVINCES

MADRID, April 7 (AP).—Almost five years to the day after he drove former King Alfonso from the throne, Niceto Alcala Zamora was ousted by a vote of the Cortes tonight from the presidency of the Republic which he helped to create.

In a tense, five-hour session the Parliament of Deputies voted 238 to 5 that the President had not properly exercised his function in dissolving the last Parliament and that automatically under Article 81 of the constitution, he should be deprived of office. His term still had one year and eight months to run.

Most Rightists refrained from voting. It was a triumph for the Leftists, who won a smashing victory in the February 16 elections

Loses Life in Frozen Wilds Of the North

ST. ANTHONY, Nfld., April 7 (CP).—Constable Corcoran, of the Newfoundland Rangers, died in Sir Wilfred Grenfell's most northerly hospital today, a victim of cold and exposure. The police officer, member of a corps patterned after the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, had his frost-bitten feet amputated, but tetanus set in.

Victoria's "Caddy" Pays Surprise Visit to Vancouver Harbor

VANCOUVER, April 7 (CP).—"Caddy" came gliding in through the First Narrows shortly after noon Monday, perhaps to attend Vancouver's golden jubilee celebration. The famous sea serpent slithered in through the grey waters in leisurely fashion, humping his coils after him in undulating rhythm.

"Three of us saw him," said Harry Twigg, West Vancouver fisherman. "Another fisherman, a woman and myself were pretty excited but we could distinguish his horse-like head stretched out of the water. There were three distinct coils. They rolled along in perfect co-ordination with the head. We couldn't see the eyes but the color seemed to be a dark, greyish shade."

Floods Threaten New Disaster in Ravaged Sections

Toll of Death From Tornadoes in Six Southern States Now More Than 400—Thousands Injured and Thousands More Homeless—Property Loss Placed at $25,000,000

GAINESVILLE, Ga., April 7 (AP).—The storm-lashed South compiled a list of more than 400 known dead today from sporadic Spring tornadoes as flooded rivers threatened new disaster over a widespread area. Torrential rains sent major streams on the rise even before the task of finding and identifying the dead left by tornadic thrusts had been completed.

The known fatalities from the latest storms which ripped through six states yesterday include Mississippi, 211; Georgia, 183; Tennessee, 12; Alabama, 11; Arkansas, 1, and South Carolina, 1.

Contributing the heaviest toll were this textile manufacturing centre in the foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains, where 183 bodies have been found, and Tupelo, Miss., another cotton manufacturing centre, where 195 died.

MANITOBA HOUSE CLOSES SESSION

Legislature Rejects Proposal to Permit Winnipeg to Go Into Gasoline Business

WINNIPEG, April 7 (CP).—Shortest session in the past twenty-three years, the Manitoba Legislature was prorogued tonight by Lieutenant-Governor Tupper. The session opened February 18.

Debate on Winnipeg City Charter amendments featured the closing session, with the Legislature rejecting an amendment which would have permitted the city to go into the gasoline business.

The Government budgeted for a deficit of $295,229.68 for the fiscal year ended April 30, 1937, with revenue estimated at $13,802,319.36 and expenditures at $14,097,04.

CHATHAM, Ont., April 7 (CP).—One man was killed and three others injured in a traffic accident during a blinding snowstorm, on No. 2 highway, some twelve miles from here tonight.

J. E. Finch, London, was the man killed. The injured were: J. H. Vanstone, London; C. C. Carruthers, London barrister, and Roy Yeoman, Toronto.

The accident occurred when a car driven by Vanstone crashed into the side of a bridge after a collision with another vehicle, driven by Frank Brokenshire, who escaped with a severe shaking up

French Reported Determined to "Punish" Germany, Refusing to Accept Fortification of Rhineland and Firmly Rejecting Hitler's Proposals—Breach of Sanctions

PARIS, April 7 (AP).—France, preliminary to delicate diplomatic negotiations at Geneva, today ordered 175,000 army conscripts, whose military service was due to expire April 15 held in active service until further orders.

At the same time Foreign Minister Flandin and Foreign Secretary Eden, of Great Britain, sought to reconcile Franco-British differences over the treatment of Germany and Italy.

Flandin, with a French plan to "punish" Germany in his pocket, met Eden at the Geneva train and is said to have insisted that sanctions against Italy must be abolished or imposed upon Germany.

EXPECTING PRESSURE

Officials here, however, expressed belief Eden would seek to increase pressure against Italy. He continued on to Geneva, where the League committee of thirteen is to resume consideration of the Italo-Ethiopian War.

Flandin is taking to Geneva a plan in the Rhineland crisis which embodies three principal points: A request to the other Locarno powers to seek punishment of Germany under the League covenant; a refusal to accept German fortification of the Rhineland; firm rejection of Hitler's counter peace proposals, based on bi-lateral pacts, and the

CONSIDERING FOOD SUPPLY

Suggested That Dominion Be Asked to Store Wheat In Great Britain

LONDON, April 7 (CP).—Sir Thomas Inskip, newly-appointed Minister for Co-ordination of Defence, told the Conservative parliamentary agricultural committee tonight the question of storage of food in Great Britain would be very carefully considered in relation to other aspects of the food supply.

Sir Thomas added that, although there was only about ten days' reserve supply of wheat in granaries in the country, there was about three months' supply available at present if stocks of wheat and flour in the hands of millers and bakers were included.

IN CASE OF EMERGENCY

The Times, in an editorial this week, suggested it might be feasible for the Canadian Wheat Board to store some of its surplus stocks of grain in the United Kingdom in case of a national emergency in Great Britain.

Captain A. G. Graham, Conservative, suggested in the House of Commons today that Walter Runciman, president of the Board of Trade, discuss the matter with the Dominion. Runciman disclaimed any official knowledge of Captain Graham's assertion that the Canadian Government was considering such a proposal.

Meanwhile the livestock sub-committee of the Conservative parliamentary agricultural committee was informed that livestock producers in

Workman Loses Life When Fire Sweeps Floating Salmon Cannery in Lake Union

SEATTLE, April 7 (AP).—One man lost his life today when a $35,000 fire swept through the floating salmon cannery Santa Flavia in Lake Union.

Herbert M. Watt, twenty-five, a workman, was trapped in the ship's hold when a ladder gave way cutting off his escape. He burned to death. Several other workmen escaped.

Coastguardsmen and harbor patrolmen using gasmasks fought the flames for two and a half hours before bringing it under control.

The vessel is owned by Alex H. Bardford, president of the Associated Fishermen of Alaska, Inc. He said the ship was valued at $75,000. The $35,000 loss was covered by insurance, he said.

SURVEY SHOWS POSSIBLE CUT

Rough Perusal of Budget Discloses Twelve-Mill Reduction Probable

A rapid survey of the 1936 budget made yesterday, following first perusal which disclosed a net levy of $2,129,966 requiring a rate of 58 mills, disclosed possible reductions in the budget that would lower the rate by 12 mills.

If the council follows the policy adopted during the past two years of ignoring sinking fund charges, $250,000 can be taken from the budget.

In addition the rapid survey showed that expenditures in the parks department, public works and other spending bodies disclosed an increase of $70,000 over last year's figure, which it is believed can be brought down to the 1935 figure.

RELIEF LOAN

No credit was given in the receipts estimates of the $45,000 that remains of the $100,000 relief loan. Using this money for necessary public works, the estimates can be still further reduced.

Basic Industries Made Progress in Quarter Concluded

British Columbia Lumber and Mines Off to Good Start, With Fisheries and Agriculture Hopeful for Fair Seasons

BRITISH Columbia's basic industries, including lumber, mines, fisheries and agriculture, held steady during the first quarter of this year with some definite gains in production, notably in the lumber industry, a survey in provincial circles disclosed yesterday.

Not including March, figures for which are not yet available, the provincial log scale for the first two months totaled 452,325,000 board feet, compared with 220,361,000 board feet in a like period at the start of 1935. This was exclusive of 2,200,0 lineal feet of poles and piling, 41,000 cords of wood, and 47,000 pieces of hewn ties, all showing increase for the period.

Waterborne lumber e rts during January and February totaled 156,438,000 board feet, compared with 129,032,000 in the corresponding period last year. The exports included shipment of 13,000,000 board feet to the Atlantic seaboard, against negligible shipments to that destination early last year.

Timber worth several million dollars changed hands in January and February, individual sales of licences to cut numbering 170 in Feb y and 138 in January, or 308 trans-

ALBERTA HOUSE ENDS SESSION

Government Given Power to Set Up Provincial Bank—Many Bills Passed

EDMONTON, April 7 (CP). — Alberta's Eighth Legislature ended its first session today.

Prior to prorogation, legislators voted unanimously to give Premier Aberhart's Social Credit Government, the first of its kind in the world, power to set up a provincial bank.

The resolution, enabling the Cabinet to proceed "as soon as may be convenient" to establish such an institution, climaxed a nine weeks' session during which 102 bills were passed.

CONCLUDES FIRST STAGE

Prorogation brought to a conclusion one stage of the Government's progress towards instituting Social Credit in Alberta, a monetary theory which envisages monthly "basic dividends" for all bona fide citizens.

To that end, the administration successfully passed through the Assembly the Social Credit Measures Act, which provides for appointment of a royal commission to study the feasibility of such a plan in this foothills province. The commission has yet to be appointed.

MONTREAL JUDGE DIES ON STREET

Mr. Justice Charles A. Wilson Succumbs to Sudden Seizure When Walking With Friend

MONTREAL, April 7 (CP).—A sudden heart attack today caused the death of Justice Charles A. Wilson as the distinguished Court of King's Bench jurist was walking along St. James Street with a colleague.

About his duties as usual during the morning and apparently in good health, the sixty-seven-year-old judge was returning from lunch with Justice Loranger when the attack came.

Justice Wilson suddenly clutched at his colleague's shoulder for support. The sudden movement and his weight was too great. Both fell to the sidewalk.

He was carried into a nearby building and last rites of the Roman Catholic Church were administered by a priest hastily summoned. A hospital interne pronounced him dead.

De Valera Under Care of Doctor

ZURICH, April 7 (CP-Havas).—Convalescence of Eamonn De Valera, President of the Executive Council of the Irish Free State, from a recent operation for a cataract of the eye, is not progressing as rapidly as had been originally expected, it was learned tonight.

It was announced he would have to remain here for a few more days, under medical observation.

Canadian Press Asks News Broadcasts Be Made More Frequent

Delegation to Parliamentary Committee Complains Of Inaccuracy of News Services Brought on Air Into Canada From the United States

OTTAWA, April 7 (C.P.).—Establishment of facilities whereby radio listeners may be given more frequent Canadian news broadcasts was recommended today to the Parliamentary committee on radio by a delegation representing the radio committee of the Canadian Press.

In a brief which declared news services on the air brought into Canada direct from United States, lacked British character and were often inaccurate and misleading, three alternative suggestions were laid before the committee as a means of increasing the present single truly Canadian coast-to-coast news broadcast to three or four.

FREE SERVICE

W. B. Preston, managing director of The Brantford Expositor and president of the Canadian Press, told the committee if facilities were provided for daytime national network broadcasting, the Canadian Press would furnish the news bulletins free, as it now does the single nightly broadcast.

Because of expense involved, the coast-to-coast network of the Canadian Radio Commission operates only during evening hours. Members of the committee, who displayed a keen interest in the subject, agreed that increased broadcasts of a Canadian and British character was desirable. The matter will be discussed further when the committee meets again after the Easter parliamentary recess.

SOME ARE ADMIRABLE

Not all foreign news broadcasts were objectionable, and some of them were admirable, the committee was told, but they were not Canadian or British, and in many cases were inaccurate. Editors were constantly being called by telephone to confirm news heard on the air that was absolutely without foundation in fact.

The delegation also asked that the clause protecting the Canadian Press and Canadian newspapers from theft of news for broadcasting purposes, be continued.

In order to make way for additional daytime Canadian news broadcasts, coast-to-coast, the delegation offered three alternative courses to extend coverage through the Canadian Radio Commission over the whole broadcasting field, to include daytime service, to provide short-wave emission that could be copied by all stations and re-broadcast, or to furnish a telegraphic hook-up of Canadian Pacific and Canadian National land lines at stated hours, directly available to all broadcasting stations.

WOULD ASK FACILITIES

Should the Radio Commission's network be extended to operate during the day, the Canadian Press would ask that facilities be provided for broadcasting its daytime bulletins.

Mr. Charlesworth was heard briefly for the commission. He explained that the proposal had been discussed previously, but that financial limitations of the commission had prevented the daytime use of coast-to-coast network facilities.

STIRRED BY REPORTS

GENEVA, April 7 (AP).—Reports that breaches may be made in the League of Nations' sanctions wall around Italy stirred Geneva tonight on the eve of a session of the committee of thirteen to consider negotiations for peace in Africa.

The League announced it has no confirmation of a Rome report that Ecuador would break the ice by dropping sanctions.

The Ecuadorean delegate to the League said he had no official information on such a step, but added: "I have, however, received instructions to oppose any move to extend the present sanctions against Italy, including an oil sanction."

TURNS OVER EVIDENCE

(Great Britain has turned over to the committee of thirteen evidence she contends is indisputable that Italy is using poison gas in Ethiopia, said a London dispatch.)

(Paris dispatches said Foreign Minister Flandin of France would press at Geneva for removal of sanctions from Italy or for the imposition of sanctions against Germany for violating the Locarno Treaty.)

The committee of thirteen only has a mandate to try to bring about peace between Italy and Ethiopia and has no authority to discuss sanctions, which belongs to the committee of eighteen. Italy weeks ago accepted a peace plea from the committee with reservations, and Ethiopia without qualificatoins.

FAVOR ROME PARLEY

Some of the committee of thirteen are in favor of asking Salvador de Madariaga, its peace negotiator, to go to Rome to confer with Premier Mussolini on terms.

The situation was dramatized by an Ethiopian warning today that if the League fails to protect her, all small countries will lose faith in the League and its widely heralded "collective security."

Jews Here Celebrate Passover

The Jewish Passover, commemorating the exodus of the Israelites from the bondage of Egypt more than 3,000 years ago, was observed yesterday and Monday [illegible]g by the local Hebrew community.

The Passover commenced at sundown on Monday, when a service was held in the Jewish synagogue on Blanshard Street. Yesterday the anniversary was observed chiefly in the homes, where the colorful "Seder" ceremonies were held, with the father conducting the service and the entire family participating in responsive reading and singing.

There also is a possibility that the city may be able to borrow its share of the relief allowance which amounts to $55,000.

These sums alone represent a total of $430,000 or 12 mills. This would bring the rate down from 58 mills to 46 mills, or 5 mills above last year's rate.

EDUCATION GRANT

The school board has yet to arrange an interview with the Minister of Education with a view to securing a special grant of $34,000 toward education in lieu of tax exemption on Provincial Government property. This, together with other economies, may bring the rate down to a level whereby the council could safely take a chance on its receipts for the year. There is a strong group in the council that favors budgeting for a deficit, on the basis that the aid promised municipalities by the Provincial Government at the Fall session will ultimately offset the deficiency. Others of the council are divided between raising the mill rate or increasing the percentage of improvement assessments that should be taxed. At present improvements are taxed up to 60 per cent. The limit under the Municipal Act is 75 per cent.

LEADER OF C.C.F. CALLS SHOWDOWN

Rev. Robert Connell Says Those Who Disagree With Manifesto Not Wanted

VANCOUVER, April 7 (C.P.). — An immediate showdown in the C.C.F. party is necessary, and those who don't subscribe to the manifesto laid down in Regina two years ago, should leave, Rev. Robert Connell, leader of the C.C.F. Opposition in the British Columbia Legislature, said in an address here tonight.

The party is no longer an academic group, he continued, but a party definitely in the political field with the purpose of taking power. To get that power they must have the confidence of the citizens and not be alarmists, he added.

It had been said that he was a sick man and was about to retire, Mr. Connell said.

"Let me say that unless I suffer a paralysis of the brain, I have no intention of resigning as leader of the Opposition in the House."

Brothers Crushed To Death by Logs

SAUT-AUX-COCHONS, Quebec, April 7 (C.P.)—Two brothers, Alfred and Emile Duclos, twenty-nine and twenty-four, of St. Tite Des Caps, were crushed to death beneath a pile of logs they were loading at their father's mill. The pile fell over and rolling logs caught them before they could escape.

SIX PERISH IN EASTERN STORM

Lose Lives When Open Boats Are Battered on Nova Scotia Coast

HALIFAX, April 7 (C.P.). — Bleak crags of outer Halifax harbor and shores of the Bras d'Or Lakes' East Bay were combed for bodies today after lives of six Nova Scotians had been lost in storm-battered open boats.

Thirteen children were orphaned by the apparent drownings of two Indian couples, missing since last Tuesday after setting out on a five-mile trip across East Bay in a row-boat from their Cape Breton reserve. Their overturned boat drifted ashore Sunday. Bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Michael and Mr. and Mrs. Noel Marshall have not been found.

FOUND IN ROCK CREVICE

His head battered beyond recognition, Owen Miller, eighteen-year-old Sandy Cove fisherman, was found dead in a rock crevice near Purcell's Cove, at the mouth of Halifax Harbor.

Close by was the battered twenty-seven-foot motorboat in which he had sailed for home with his thirty-eight-year-old companion, Wilfred Finck, father of three children living in Sandy Cove. After selling their season's catch in Halifax they had set out on their return in the face of a sixty-mile gale raging at the harbor mouth. The body of Finck has not been recovered.

CITY DECLINES EXPERT ADVICE

Committee Finds Administrative System Satisfactory Following Changes

The proposal, advanced by Alderman Stanley Okell, that the city engage an efficiency expert to advise the council on changes advisable in its administrative system, was turned down by the City Council Monday night, on the recommendation of the finance committee.

The committee pointed out that it already had thoroughly investigated the civic administration, efficiency reorganization in the comptroller's department, and that now the system was quite satisfactory.

Those voting against the recommendation were: Aldermen Edward Williams, Stanley Okell, Archie Wills and Andrew McGavin.

CALIFORNIA ACT EXPLAINED HERE

New Legislation Puts Stop to Unfair Competition by Setting Basic Price

Keen interest was expressed by members of the Credit Granters' Association of Victoria and retail merchants' section of the Chamber of Commerce in the California Fair Trade Practices Act as interpreted by W. J. Hindley, of Seattle, at their luncheon meeting yesterday.

No concern in California could sell goods other than distress merchandise below cost, Mr. Hindley explained. Administrators of the act were empowered to define such distress merchandise. Cost of the goods, Mr. Hindley said, was arrived at by adding overhead of a business to the invoice price.

Because of the act, many firms were prevented from selling loss leaders and causing unfair competition. Mr. Hindley expressed his opinion that the act would be adopted by many other states because it had been tested in court six times and found constitutional, sound and beneficial.

Several business men at the meeting thought such an act should be passed in British Columbia and announced their intention of sending away for copies in order that they might familiarize themselves with the legislation.

High Water Not Likely to Damage

CINCINNATI, April 7 (AP).—The Ohio River stood at flood stage at its Pittsburgh source today, and twelve feet above flood stage at its mouth at Cairo, Ill.; but for most of the 981 miles between, it remained below flood level, and little damage was in prospect from the second high water in less than a month.

MUST NOT TAKE RISKS IN INDIA

Sir Philip Chetwode Warns Against Neglect in Indian Defence

LONDON, April 7 (C.P.).—In considering the defence of India it would be madness to take risks, declared Field Marshal Sir Philip Chetwode, in addressing the East India Association today. Sir Philip has just completed a five-year term as commander-in-chief of the army in India.

"The Indian Frontier," the field marshal said, "is vital, for it is within touch of the Russian menace which advances and recedes according to the state of the rest of the world and Russian politics.

RUSSIANS WELL EQUIPPED

"Nobody now imagines the likelihood of war between the British Empire and Russia, but, as was seen in the last year, international situations alter rapidly. The Russians have the biggest, and possibly the best equipped, army and air force in the world."

Given cause, given leadership, with the cause being the weakness of India and the object the loot of India, was it, Sir Philip asked, outside the range of possibility that such a leader might appear with such tempting bait to offer his followers. At present, the field marshal added, the coasts and ports of India would be more or less at the mercy of raiders and submarines unless the British fleet were able to go to India's assistance.

TOO MUCH TO EXPECT IN SUCH SHORT TIME

MONTREAL, April 7 (C.P.). — Bewildered by the technical language of witnesses and counsel at the Turgeon Royal Commission inquiry into the textiles trade, a newspaperman approaching one of the lawyers today asked, "What is a 'labor cost unit?'"

The lawyer looked furtively over his shoulder and lowered his voice.

"Darned if I know," he said, "I've only been connected with this inquiry a few weeks."

MAY TEACH RELIGION IN ONTARIO SCHOOLS

TORONTO, April 7 (C.P.).—The possibility of a course in religious instruction in Ontario's public schools was forecast today by Education Minister Simpson. He would not comment on whether this would be compulsory.

"We have to work the whole thing out," the minister said. "We are going to investigate the whole matter right after the session."

SAVINGS BANK ROBBED

BERLIN, Conn., April 7 (AP).—Three robbers, all armed, entered the Berlin Savings Bank today and escaped with $10,000.

KNOWLEDGE OF ART IS NEEDED

University Women's Club Addressed by Mrs. J. O. Cameron

Anyone contemplating travel in Europe should not only have a working knowledge of French and German, but should know something about art and architecture, if they wish to enjoy to the utmost the galleries, the cathedrals, the old palaces and guild houses and other historical objects, Mrs. J. O. Cameron maintained in addressing the University Women's Club, last evening, on her recent trip abroad.

The meeting, held in the Y.W.C.A. rooms, was well attended. Mrs. Cameron confined herself chiefly to the galleries, museums, palaces and cathedrals she explored in London, Brussels, Cologne, Boulogne, Leipsic, Prague, Salzburg, Dresden, Vienna, Innsbruck, Zurich, Paris, and the several places she visited on her return from the Continent to England.

There was admirable sequence in the narrative, and lively powers of observation were shown even in her necessarily condensed description of the many towns and their outstanding points of interest. Her reference to some of the many fascinating old clocks she had seen exemplified this. These, she said, could provide subject-matter for a lecture in themselves. London provided inexhaustible sources of entertainment.

LIKED LONDON

"I am perfectly sincere in saying that I like London better than any place I have ever been in," she commented, repeating a sentiment she had previously voiced in her recent address to the Women's Canadian Club.

Mrs. Cameron took with her to the meeting a large parcel of photographs and oleographs of some of the famous paintings, sculpture, bronzes, carvings and other objects of art she had seen in the museums of Europe. These were examined with much interest by the members of the audience after her interesting talk.

The early part of the meeting was occupied with discussion of several matters of routine business. The members voted the sum of $50 to the Brock Memorial Building. This building is being planned in celebration of the twenty-first anniversary of the opening of the University of British Columbia, and will be used as a union building for men and women students. The building will also be a memorial to the late Dean and Mrs. Brock.

ANNUAL MEETING

Plans were made for the annual meeting. This will take the form of a dinner at the Empress Hotel, about the middle of May.

A new member, Mrs. John Sinclair Stevenson, B.Sc., of University of Washington and M.A. of Radcliffe College, Cambridge, Massachusetts, was welcomed.

A much-enjoyed vocal solo was given by Miss Sheila Conway, who, accompanied by Miss Margaret Pringle, sang "Clouds."

Dr. Olga Jardine, the president, was in the chair and thanked Mrs. Cameron and Miss Conway most cordially on behalf of the members. Miss Yvonne Love was convener of the refreshments served during the social half hour following the formal part of the programme.

IS INTERIM PRESIDENT

Diego Martinez Barrio, president of the Cortes and chief of the Republican Union, was inducted as interim president.

Details of troops stood guard around the presidential palace, where the fifty-eight-year-old Alcala Zamora—jailed by former King Alfonso for his Liberalism—had listened over the radio to his fate.

The ousting of the first President of the second Spanish Republic came under dramatic circumstances in the heavily guarded Cortes. It followed one of the most tense debates of many years in which the best orators either defended or attacked the President.

BOMBINGS IN BARCELONA

BARCELONA, April 7 (AP).—Two business establishments were bombed today and an attempt made to assassinate former Director of Prisons Jose Rojas.

Rojas, fired upon from a passing automobile in front of his home, flung himself to the ground and escaped injury.

Bombs wrecked one American business office and the establishment of an Italian motor car company.

In Seville Province, at the town of Cantillana, a church was pillaged and burned after Socialists and Fascists had engaged in an encounter. Fourteen Socialists were arrested but police were forced to release them when a crowd threatened to burn the jail.

Nations for consideration by the committee of thirteen."

This was learned tonight from a high source shortly after Anthony Eden, Foreign Secretary, departed for Geneva to attend the committee session.

Evidence, which Sir Sidney Barton, British Minister to Ethiopia, cabled to his Government last week, came from various international sources whose neutral observations the British claimed to be unimpeachable.

CIVILIANS SUFFER

According to these reports, the Italian planes began using gas bombs about March 1 and have continued their use since then during their aerial attacks. Although the poison gas may be essentially meant to disperse the Ethiopian troops, it was claimed that thousands of civilians, including women and children, have also suffered.

CONSIDERING FOOD SUPPLY

Great Britain were gravely dissatisfied with the prices of home-produced beef.

DISCOURAGE COMMITMENTS

On behalf of the livestock producers it was strongly urged, in view of the fact that notice was due shortly in regard to the expiration of the Argentina and other trade agreements, that no further commitments should be entered into which did not fully take into consideration the position of the home producers.

The Ministers replied that they were fully alive to the situation and promised to do their best to insure that the interests of the home producers be considered.

Here Is an Exceptional Way to Provide for Your Family's Welfare

If an ordinary policy for say $10,000 becomes a claim, the income from the money, if invested safely at 3½ to 4%, or fortunately even at 5%, would be only $350 to $500 a year.

Under a $10,000 Family Income Policy, however, the Imperial Life would guarantee to pay 12% of the face value of the Policy, or $1,200 a year, and this income would be paid every year until your youngest child was grown up. Then the full face value of the Policy, $10,000, would be paid in cash.

Think what a difference this extra $700 or $800 per annum—it might be for many years—would make to your family while the children were growing up. And then—$10,000 to start them in life or to take care of your widow's declining years!

If you survive, the policy will provide you with a very welcome cash fund, or a guaranteed monthly income for the time you will wish to retire.

In planning an estate to protect your family you cannot do better for them, or for yourself, than to investigate the Imperial Family Income Policy. Send for particulars today.

George Evans Gives His Account of How Accident Happened

Driver of Truck Says He Was Practically Across Lyall Street When Motor Cycle Ran Into The Rear Portion of His Car

AFTER the jury, accompanied by Mr. Justice H. B. Robertson and officials of the court and counsel in the case had gone over the scene of the tragedy, which cost Roland Robert Ryley his life on January 7 last, court resumed yesterday afternoon at 3:35 o'clock. George Evans, driver of the motor truck, who is charged with manslaughter, was called upon to tell the circumstances as he recalled them.

Adjournment was taken after he gave his evidence in chief until this morning, when he will undergo cross-examination by Henry Hall, K.C., for the Crown. The address of counsel will follow this morning with the charge of His Lordship.

In reply to his counsel, H. W. Davey, the accused testified he had been driving automobiles and trucks since 1925 and had a clean record as far as accidents were concerned.

Before leaving Duncan, he said, he made sure the lumber piled on the sides of the truck was adjusted so it would slope back, thus giving him clear vision. The lumber was not piled as was shown in the photograph taken after it had been replaced on the truck after the accident.

DROVE CAREFULLY

As he drove along Esquimalt Road he saw school children playing about and slowed down to avoid accident. He was not going faster than twelve miles an hour as he turned into Fraser Street, he said.

When the accused had been in Victoria in July, he said he had driven down Fraser Street and there was a "slow" sign there. He did not know a "stop" sign had taken its place.

As he came into Lyall Street he looked to his left and saw nothing on the street. He then directed his attention to the right, applied his brakes and lessened his speed.

When the front end of his truck was across the street, he heard the roar of a motorcycle and a crash. He applied his brakes and stopped, being fairly well across the road. He had stopped within about two-thirds of the length of his truck or about fifteen feet, he testified.

RANG UP POLICE

The accused then described the scene. When the victim of the accident was carried into a house he went on with the truck to Mr. Bishop's, where he knew he could telephone for help and for the police. He mentioned the unloading of Mr. Bishop's lumber and the request of the chief of police to have it replaced.

W. E. Murton testified that he had got nearly opposite the "stop" sign on one occasion on Fraser Street before he realized that it was not a "slow" sign.

Mrs. Grace Jennings, an invalid who lives on Lyall Street, testified earlier to having seen, just about noon on the day of the tragedy, two soldiers go by on Lyall Street on a motorcycle. She said she thought they were "going awful fast" and faster than motorcycles usually went.

BLAMES MOTORCYCLE

Opening the case for the defence in the forenoon, H. W. Davey said it appeared the truck had passed out of the intersection of the two streets, Lyall and Fraser, and that the motorcycle came down Lyall at a terrific speed and was unable to halt before crashing into the truck.

In support of this contention, A. S. G. Musgrave, engineer, testified that he had, on February 29, visited the scene of the accident. The day was drizzly and the roads were wet. He had made measurements following tests of stopping a motorcycle of the same type as the one that the victim of the accident of January 7 was riding.

The distance in which the motorcycle was stopped from a given speed was corroborated by R. George Shanks, who rode the machine in the tests. The motorcycle, said Mr. Shanks, was placed in as near the condition that the one was in on the day of the accident.

The tests showed that going past a given point at ten miles an hour, the cycle was stopped in fifteen feet; at fifteen miles it stopped in fifteen feet; at twenty miles in twelve feet; at twenty-five miles in sixteen feet at thirty miles in thirty-one feet, and at thirty-five miles in sixty-six. Tested on the exact location of the accident, a thirty-mile run was stopped in thirty-one feet, while at thirty-five miles it was stopped in forty-seven feet.

TESTED VISIBILITY

Mr. Musgrave also made measurements following tests of driving the truck along Fraser Street with the object of getting the distances that one could see up Lyall Street. There were boxes placed, he said, on the truck alongside of the driver's seat to represent lumber.

Stopping the truck in front of the "stop" sign on Fraser, west of Lyall, Mr. Musgrave said that he had a clear vision past a house on the corner for a distance of 106 feet up Lyall. By looking through the lattice work of the veranda, a distance of 123 feet was obtainable up Lyall.

When the truck was eight and a half feet past the stop sign, a view was also obtainable for 123 feet up Lyall, clear of the house.

After the truck had gone to a point five feet south of the property line of Lyall Street, a view for seventy-three feet westwardly up Lyall was possible.

QUESTION OF SIGNS

Questioned as to stop signs on the Esquimalt Road by Mr. Davey, information was that on January 30, witness (Mr. Musgrave) had counted thirty from Dominion Road to the barracks. Of these, twenty were double signs with a circle and a horizontal bar. Four of them were single.

His Lordship asked what object there was in introducing this evidence as to a distinction of signs.

Mr. Davey said that Esquimalt had used distinctive stop signs, but of late was not using this type, and the public was confused.

To Mr. Hall the witness, Mr. Musgrave, said that he would not want to drive a truck with the obstruction along the side as indicated.

On opening court yesterday morning, considerable discussion followed the proposal of the Crown counsel, Henry Halls, K.C., to introduce photographs of the loaded truck which had been taken by A. H. Dobson.

Mr. Davey contended that these pictures should not be put before the jury, as the views were always distorted and did not convey the correct information. Finally, the pictures were submitted for what they were worth.

George J. Bishop, a brother-in-law of Mr. Evans, testified to the events of the day of the accident and the granting of permission to unload lumber and later to put it back in position in the truck.

SILK CLOTH COMPETITION IS OUTLINED

Royal Commission Is Told Japanese Prices Forcing Cut in Production

TARIFF REDUCTION THREATENS INDUSTRY

MONTREAL, April 7.—Japanese textile interests were quoting prices much below those of Canadian mills, with the result that Dominion Textile Company was receiving fewer orders, and its Valleyfield, Que., plant was no longer producing certain fabrics because it could not liquidate its present stock, G. Blair Gordon, managing director, today told the Turgeon Royal Commission, investigating the textile industry.

"I think we all know that up to now (from January 1, 1936) Japanese imports have not been very large," Gordon said. "Nevertheless, we have lost our production entirely on what Japanese lines have come into Canada." A previous witness stated that 236,000 yards of Japanese silks had been imported since the first of this year.

WARNING OF COMPETITION

Gordon said that on January 4 last, A. B. Fisher & Co., Toronto, textile jobbers, dispatched to the buying trade from Vancouver to Quebec quotations on purchasable Japanese silk in Canadian currency, freight on board Toronto. This was, he said, a forewarning of serious Japanese competition for the Canadian mills.

On January 14, Gordon said, Canadian textile officials went to Ottawa to interview the Canadian Customs Commissioner, Finance Minister Dunning, Revenue Minister Ilsley and Commerce Minister Euler in regard to the threat of serious Japanese competition. Quotations from the Fisher letter had been placed before the Cabinet members.

MIGHT NOT BE GENUINE

Asked if it were not a fact, during the Ottawa conference, that the Finance Minister had suggested to him the quotations worrying him might not be genuine quotations as to goods of a class or kind competing with the Canadian mills, Gordon said he did not think the minister had put it that way.

Gordon declined to agree with Commission Counsel J. C. McRuer's suggestion that there was no evidence the Canadian market was being "flooded" with Japanese goods. The Japanese surtax and fixed valuation of $1.25 a pound had been removed on January 1, 1936, and imports were starting to come in. The amount was not yet large, but Dominion Textiles could not get rid of certain stock.

"Because of Japanese competition?" McRuer asked.

"Because people are not interested in placing orders and this because the Japanese quotations are so much below our prices," was the reply.

REPORTS ARE ENCOURAGING

H. D. Patterson Returns From Seattle Convention Of Northwest Realtors

Delegates from the Eastern States brought reports and stories of new and better times to the Seattle convention of the Northwest region of the National Associaiton of Real Estate Boards, held last Friday and Saturday, Harold D. Patterson stated yesterday on his return from the Puget Sound city, where he was the official representative of the Victoria Real Estate Board.

Also attending the conclave were J. A. Bennell, H. C. Oldfield and Mr. and Mrs. F. J. D. Pemberton, of Victoria. Mr. Patterson spoke highly of the courtesy shown to the Victorians by members of the Seattle Real Estate Board during the convention.

LARGE GATHERING

Som 300 delegates from Washington, Oregon, Montana, Idaho and British Columbia heard competent speakers from Illinois, Texas, Florida and Washington, D.C., including Walter W. Rose, Orlando, Florida, president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, and Herbert U. Nelson, Chicago, national secretary. They gave convincing figures as to the definite upturn in the volume of sales of real estate, prices, increase in rentals and decrease in vacancies, Mr. Patterson reported yesterday.

"Figures were also given," Mr. Patterson said, "to show that no longer was there a scarcity in funds available for mortgages, and interest rates were lower than ever before in the history of the United States.

MORTGAGE SYSTEM

"The short-term mortgage is now practically a thing of the past; nearly all of the money now being loaned is on a long-term mortgage with monthly payments covering interest, principal, taxes and insurance."

Mr. Patterson also noted house values were higher in the United States as compared to Victoria. He said $3,500 could buy in this city what would require $5,000 to purchase across the border.

"All Victoria delegates came back filled with a new spirit of optimism with regard to the possibilities of real estate. It was a real inspiration for me," Mr. Patterson declared.

BOYS GUESTS OF CLUB AT DINNER

Youthful Group Entertained by Kiwanians — Short Address Is Given by Rev. E. F. Church

Members of the Kiwanis Club were hosts Monday night at dinner in Spencer's dining-room to their past and present proteges at the Y.M.C.A.

Rev. E. F. Church, pastor of Metropolitan Church, told the boys that the training given them at the Y.M.C.A. through the co-operation of the Kiwanis Club, was an advantage many boys did not have. He urged them to take full advantage of the opportunities.

Mr. Church told the young men that men often wished they were boys again, while boys sometimes wished they were men. He declared it gave members great pleasure to mingle with the lads at such gatherings.

He urged those with a definite goal in life to go to great lengths to achieve that end.

"Boys need a constructive superiority and your training at the Y.M.C.A. helps you secure it," Mr. Church said. The speaker warned the boys against a false superiority or an inferiority complex. Both were to be avoided at all costs, he contended.

Criminals he continued, were developed mainly from those boys who had been frustrated in their youth or who "had been cast to one side along the highway of life."

William Harkness, magician, entertained the boys, and Frank Pauilding conducted community singing. Thanks of the boys were extended by Robert Andrews and Victor Zala.

A Friend to the Aged As the Years Creep On

MILBURN'S HEALTH AND NERVE PILLS

In the later years of life we start to lose that snap and vigor of our younger days. The blood does not circulate as it once did, the vitality is on the wane, and the nerves not just as steady as they used to be.

Little sicknesses and ailments seem harder to shake off; and evidences of a breakdown begin to appear.

Those who wish to maintain their health and vigor and retain their energy should use Milburn's H. & Nerve Pills at this time of life.

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR RETIRING

Mr. J. W. Fordham Johnson has been handicapped by poor health during most of the time of his occupancy of Government House, and now he is retiring on that account three months before his term expires. This news will be heard with a good deal of regret by the people of British Columbia, and His Honor will be the recipient of many hearty good wishes for complete recovery in his retirement. It was natural that, because of the handicap of poor health suffered by the Lieutenant-Governor, many activities had to be curtailed at Government House in recent years. Whenever entertainments were held, those privileged to be present always found Mr. and Mrs. Fordham Johnson the ideal host and hostess, and there are many who will regret their departure. Mr. Fordham Johnson occupies an honored place in the roll of Lieutenant-Governors. He has been admirably assisted in the social duties of his task by his wife. The Lieutenant-Governor, prior to assuming office, had been a prominent figure in the industrial life of the Province, and in whatever sphere he found himself he showed initiative and leadership.

SOCIAL CREDIT IN ALBERTA

In the visionary speculations of some Social Credit idealists there is one phantasm which is hardly ever absent, even for a moment. It is that bankers can and do create credit out of nothing, that retail grocers similarly create credit out of nothing or less than nothing, and that governments, masquerading as bankers, can do the same thing. This seems to be an important, perhaps an essential, part of the stock-in-trade at the Social Credit dispensary. It is the sovereign cure-all, the universal remedy, the elixir of economic life. Since, by hypothesis, the Government can furnish everyone with an adequate supply of that magic panacea known as purchasing power, it may by this single act set the wheels of commerce and industry into perpetual motion, cure unemployment, fill the idle with energy, confer business capacity and the blessings of industry and thrift upon the improvident, restore business confidence, and make everybody happy.

The theory seems to be that in any community the Government may ordain that every citizen thereof, whether or not he possesses goods of his own or is capable of rendering efficient service in free exchange for the goods or services of others, shall be supplied free, gratis, for nothing, with a share of this magical power of purchase. Every citizen, say the Social Crediters, is fairly entitled to a share of something which they call the national dividend, a cultural heritage, a common fund, which is supposed to exist in some national treasure house. It does not seem to matter to the Social Crediter whether the country's rulers have been wise and prudent or extravagant and reckless in the management of national or provincial affairs, whether they have conserved the public credit or wasted the country's substance in lavish expenditure. The Social Crediter seems to think that public credit is inexhaustible. It matters not to the Social Crediter whether the Government can or cannot borrow in the money market at reasonable rates. To the Albertan Social Crediter, the fact that Alberta is hard put to it to meet its financial obligations has nothing to do with the case. The Social Crediter believes that the Alberta Government, which hardly knows which way to turn for money to pay for its ordinary domestic housekeeping, can nevertheless find the wherewithal to pay, from some exhaustless source, a monthly dividend to all its citizens.

MEDDLING AND MUDDLING

One latter-day type of politician in our Canadian West rarely speaks without in some way, directly or indirectly, advocating new expenditures. In their conception, little can be done towards any amelioration of conditions save by the avenue of greater taxation. The minds of such politicians are warped by the consideration that there should be ever greater attempts to strangle the initiative and enterprise of the individual. They can think only in terms of meddling with human liberty, of interference with domestic lives and of regimenting the populace. This ilk of politician gave an exhibition of its strength at the recent session of the British Columbia Legislature in passing the Health Insurance Act. That legislation is the most flagrant example yet devised in this Province of a political incursion into the homes of the people.

There is an utter bankruptcy of any type of statesmanship where the conception prevails that added taxation will right the social, political or financial handicaps under which the people suffer. Political thought, more than any other form, carries the heaviest responsibility for having arrested development in British Columbia. Our Governments, during two decades past, have been a blighting influence because of ill-conceived legislation, and their efforts in this direction have been intensified in recent years. They have gone on from debt to debt until the per capita obligations of this Province are the heaviest in the Dominion. Most of our politicians, judging from their utterances, do not know the meaning of economy.

Once it has accomplished the task of affording the necessary protection to life, limb and property, a Provincial Government should operate for the purpose of fostering the development of natural resources. That can never be done by overburdening taxation; the reverse happens by this course, because development is arrested. That has been true in many respects in this Province. What development there has been has ensued despite legislation, and because the spirit of the individual is stronger than the ability of politicians to curb its enterprise. It is, however, easy to conceive what far greater advances British Columbia would have made in the past two decades if taxation were only half what it is today, and had statesmanship dictated policies that would have been the case. It will never be the case until politicians reverse their conception of what government means. There ought to be a graduating class for politicians in the school of common sense. As it is, with some few exceptions, the calibre of those elected in this Province is so light that it is small wonder progress has been stifled, for our legislators appear incapable of thinking in any terms save those of increased taxation. Nothing is so galling to a people as meddling politicians.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

New Zealand, according to Lord Bledisloe, an ex-Governor-General, has an insularity of outlook, traceable to geographical detachment from the humming centres of world activity.. He says that there is a considerable proportion of the population which deprecates the admission of human migrants or pedigree livestock from the Motherland. For his part, he says that five years' close study of New Zealand's natural resources, industries, international trade and commercial potentialities lead him to the conclusion that there is no economic future for that country "unless she opens her arms (with proper discrimination) to both—and that without undue delay." Then Lord Bledisloe says:

"The chief lubricant of industry, the only key to unlock the treasure-house of a rich country's abounding natural wealth is capital, coupled, of course, with business aptitude and industrial experience for its fruitful employment. New Zealand, perhaps unconsciously, is crying aloud for British capital, as well as British people, while both in large masses remain idle here at home, the former earning a paltry one and one-half per cent on deposit at our banks and the latter constituting a well-nigh insoluble social and political problem in areas of industrial exhaustion or progressive industrial decadence."

INCREASING CRUISER STRENGTH

Great Britain's cruiser strength is to be increased to 70 vessels under the new programme of naval expansion. That is the limit which the late Lord Jellicoe defined as the margin of safety. At present Great Britain has 55 cruisers, but of these only 33 are within the age limit and 22 over that limit. There are now 11 cruisers being constructed or for which appropriations have been made. This means that by 1938 the number of cruisers under the age limit will increase to 44. The strength will be brought to 70 by 1942, as there will be four yearly programmes of from five or six cruisers. There will be a speeding up in construction, and the period between the date of authorization and the commissioning of the ships for service will be reduced to three years. By 1942 Great Britain will have 60 cruisers within the age limit on the basis of the building programme that has been devised.

"Not one man in a thousand has the luck to get a wife who is willing or able to take him philosophically and not argue, oppose or reform him," says Mr. Paul Whiteman. A woman will say that this also goes vice versa, and so there is a vicious circle of worry which wears out lives.

RESURRECTION

After the trackless, sandy places,
After the doom of a starless night,
I have suddenly sighted a cool oasis,
I have caught a glimpse of the day's first light.

Out of the Winter's desolation,
A promise of Spring has found my heart,
Reaching with delicate emanation
To hands that tremble and eyes that smart.

Here is a wonder for explanation.
What manner of miracle is this?
Witness a dead heart's recreation,
Brought to life by a single kiss.

—Joseph Upper, in "The Lyric."

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

Slavery is almost as ancient as war, and war as human nature.—Voltaire

Many of the nations are worried about their financial balances. Many of the nations are worried about the mental balances of other nations. When a creature of the lower animal creation, such as a bull or a dog, loses its mental balance, goes on the rampage, and is a menace to human life, it can be dealt with summarily. So can a human individual who "sees red" and runs amok. The problem is not so simple when nations begin to "see red" and indulge in threatenings and slaughter.

* * *

Hitler is going to teach the young German idea how to shoot at the age of thirteen years. Ludendorff, one of the original German War Lords, in supreme command of the Teutonic hosts during the late war, has emerged from long obscurity and given the German people and the people of other countries a new but not a revised conception of the supreme objects of a nation. The new voice of Ludendorff sounds like the voices of all the Junkers when Germany was preparing to throw her unconquerable hosts into practically defenceless and helpless Belgium.

* * *

Read the heralded declaration of Ludendorff with reference to the next war: Just as the Germans for years before the year 1913 were looking forward with high anticipations to "Der Tag," so the Germans of today are living in anticipation of the "next war." Ludendorff declared for the organization of a "totalitarian state." Germany today is practically a totalitarian state. The next step is the organization of the entire people for the inevitable hostilities, "because war is the supreme reality in the life of a nation. Declarations of war are merely stupid observances of out-of-date customs. Strike from the air instantly, strike hard at the military and the civil population alike, bomb the enemy's industrial centres and do everything to hinder the concentration of the enemy's forces." That, says a commentator, is the ruthless General Ludendorff's idea of war. If such ideas spread throughout Germany, all Europe will have to be ready to meet the menace.

* * *

Training for war begins in Germany at the age of thirteen years. Such training is proceeding in Italy earlier than that. In Italy children of tender years are equipped with toy pistols and guns, and in their play practise the arts of war. There is a saying that it is impossible to indite whole nations. If a whole nation becomes maniacal in its ideas and proceeds to act according to its insane impulses, it cannot be indicted and brought before an international court of competent jurisdiction. An individual madman can be restrained and put in an asylum. A whole nation cannot be arrested in its mad courses and placed in an international retreat. Considering the international situation in Europe, can we wonder at the patience with which the Government of Great Britain is trying to restrain the militarists and allay the mad passions aroused by dictators.

* * *

If war is the supreme reality in the life of certain nations, there can be no peace for a majority of the nations while such a menace remains an active force. The peaceful pursuit of industry is the supreme reality in the lives of nations whose mentality is normal and sound. Nations cannot live permanently upon war alone. Militant nations may live for a time upon the fruits of peaceful and industrious nations, but there must come a time when the resources of conquered nations will become exhausted and there will be no more nations to be conquered, spoiled and looted. The germ at the back of this predatory idea must be a system of slavery for the peaceful nations and lives of ease, luxury and sensuality for the military caste. That idea is not new. It has been tried. It has failed and been abandoned. Force always has been met by force throughout the ages.

* * *

The experience of mankind always has been, and always will be, that when the military concept is carried to its inevitable conclusion, there is trouble in store for the world. When Germany's first great military machine seemed adequate to the purpose for which it was designed it got beyond the control of its makers. The temptation arose to put it to the proof and demonstrate the fact of its efficiency. The first attempt of the organization failed, but the lesson the failure should have taught was not learned. The machine created havoc in the world, but in the end it was smashed. Today there is a new organization and a new machine. There is still a belief in Germany that war is the supreme reality in the life of a nation, and when the time seems opportune that belief will be put to the test.

THE COLONIST IN LONDON

The Colonist may be procured at the International News Stand of Messrs. Selfridge & Co., Oxford Street.

The same principle has been adopted in Italy and has been applied in the conquest of Ethiopia. Mussolini had the machine and the power, and he used it in precisely the way Ludendorff suggests. With shell, bomb and bullet the Italians struck hard from the air at the civil population of Abyssinia. No wonder the world is shocked at the savagery of modern warfare and the advocates of disarmament and peace are alarmed at the impotence of the League of Nations in its efforts to check the atrocities.

Autonomy or Pie?

Human nature being what it is, we should all have been a little auspicious about eight Liberal Premiers sitting around the family board. All a poor relation gets at the family board, in Ottawa or anywhere else, is apt to be the last helping from the pie and first chance at the dishes!—S.G.

Not the Same Mae Though

A curious coincidence concerning the local appearance of Mae West in "Klondike Annie" has come to light. The first river steamer in the Lower Yukon, which made the trip up and down river to Dawson in 1898, was named the May West. —W.J.H.

Victoria Should Win

Holding down second berth in the Inter-City Football League, one point behind the North Shore eleven, Victoria United will play St. Saviour's, Vancouver soccer squad, here on Good Friday. A win for the locals will enable them to retain the league honors they annexed last season. Victoria should take the match, and, in fact, we are going to pick them to win by two goals. We do not wish to give the impression that we are belittling the strength of our friends from across the Gulf, but we feel that Victoria United has that "something" that is strong enough to give them a two-goal margin over the Mainlanders.—S.T.

A Day in the Country

Instead of spending Sunday in the teeming city, we went out to friend Bill's Keating farm for the day . . . Bill showed us his famous blowing well. It is eighty-two feet deep, and at times great puffs of air come roaring from its depths. The mystery has never been solved . . . He also has a 1908 model automobile, still in good running order, which should be placed in a museum . . . Bill told us he had solved the problem of cutting sticks for climbing beans. He plants beans and sunflowers together, and the beans climb up the sunflowers. They in turn furnish fodder for the family cow . . . He told us a neighbor imported a green English youth to work on his farm. Asked to harness the horse, the lad said he couldn't get the collar over it's ears because they were frozen. He was trying to harness a cow . . . After listening to London on Bill's new long and short wave radio-phonograph combination, we decided to throw away our one-tube set . . . Bill demonstrated the marvelous echo around his farm. He even got an echo out of the radio and from behind the chesterfield. It turned out to be clever ventriloquism . . . After showing us various athletic stunts few eighteen-year-olds could perform, Bill showed us he was a poet of no mean ability . . . We accepted Mr. and Mrs. Bill's kind invitation for a return visit with alacrity.—G.B.

Do You Know That

John McNeil, who resigned as Deputy Boxing Commissioner in New York in January of this year, witnessed 30,000 bouts and 75,000 rounds of action during twelve years.—W. Franks, of Newcastle, Australia, holds the world's record for club swinging. He swung the clubs for one hour, making 17,280 revolutions. He bested the former record by nearly 3,000 revolutions.—Here's one better. Tom Burrows swung clubs for eighty hours without stopping and made 585,000 revolutions. He averaged 122 swings per minute, and calls Invercargill, New Zealand, his home town.—Mike Hamas, brother of Steve the fighter, boasts of shooting 100 consecutive foul shots on the basketball court without a mistake — Charles M. Schwab, steel magnate and one of America's greatest bridge players, made a grand slam at contract bridge in a game in New York in 1932, although his opponents held three aces. You want to try it some time, and, if so, better be wearing your brain cap, for it's mighty tough.—Leonard Ballard, of the old Northwestern Baseball League, pitched seventy-four consecutive innings without issuing a base on balls. Maybe some of you old Victoria fans remember him. I believe he did his mound work for Seattle.—J.D.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily British Colonist of April 8, 1886.)

New Store—Yesterday was the opening day of the millinery establishment of the Misses Beegan & Madigan, situated on Government Street (opposite the new premises of the Bank of British Columbia); the store was crowded with lady visitors, who not only critically inspected the large and fashionable stock, but extended liberal patronage in the shape of purchases and orders.

Improvements on Douglas Street—Mr Lilly, the manufacturing confectioner, has nearly completed a two-storey building on Douglas Street, and Messrs. Shore & Anderson, furniture dealers, have commenced the construction of a two-storey building adjoining Mr Lilly's. Other buildings in the same neighborhood are projected.

Packing Company—The sale of the Quesnela Packing Company's plant and property at Smith's Inlet, Coast district, will take place today at the saleroom of J. P. Davies & Co., Wharf Street, in this city. The outfit is complete, and a person with capital will find on hand everything requisite for the commencement of work during the present season.

STATE HEALTH INSURANCE

Sir,—Against the wishes of those directly interested, this bill has been jockeyed through. Undoubtedly this has been done by some smooth politics. The Government has satisfied the Opposition, and we shall no doubt hear in the future why. As the bill is, it is certainly not true to Socialistic principles. The big shot is dashing off to Ottawa, like a kid with a new toy, to tell them how smart he is in the hopes of getting a loan for us to pay.

The grant to the professor's pet in the confusion has been substantially raised and everyone but the taxpayer is happy. The great mind of the father of this pup is now bent on finding ways and means of spending the money to the best advantage, with the idea already expressed of not stinting the pay to good men—plenty of them with plenty of pay. It should be a great success for some. But British Columbia leads the way in brain waves and debts.

Anyway, it's through, and all should remember at next voting, as the continued jolts to your pay envelope in the future will compel you to, the rush-job it was and the men who did it; for until then the only satisfaction the man who pays will have is in watching these wizards of finance get fifty cents worth of value for every $1 spent. Is it any wonder that a decent person sees red when trickery and deceit are called honorable because it is political?

OLIVER A. TRICKETT.

1548 Ryan Street, Victoria, B.C., April 4, 1936.

COMMUNISTIC PROPAGANDA

Sir,—According to The Colonist report of Dr Strong's recent lecture, Mrs. Steeves, M.P.P., at the conclusion of the address, expressed the opinion that in five years Russia would be a beneficial example to the world.

Surely, sir, this is an extraordinary statement to emanate from a member of a Canadian legislature, founded upon principles of British justice and political procedure.

Does not Mrs Steeves know that this much-vaunted Russian Government has sent well over a million Kulaks to most terrible penal servitude in the rigorous wilds of Siberia? Is she blind to the fact that this new pseudo-civilization deliberately starved forty million peasants, and that as a direct result it was officially admitted over five million died? This is perhaps the worst crime ever committed by any government in history. The only offence of these poor sufferers was that they desired to hold together their homes and continue the use of their land. Be it further remembered that at the time of the revolution in 1917 this same administrative system promised to give the peasants their land as the price of their support.

Two years ago a fanatic assassinated the Governor of Leningrad who was a friend of Stalin's. In retaliation, Stalin had thirty-two men shot and over 500 sent to a living death in the Siberian mines. Such was the official statement, but Mr Wilson Woodside, a Canadian traveler, who was in Leningrad at the time, states that the more accurate figures were around 500 killed and 30,000 imprisoned, Stalin taking advantage of the opportunity to make a further purge of the remaining members of the old aristocracy, White Russians, intelligensia and priests.

Also does not Mrs. Steeves know that in the schools which Dr. Strong was eulogizing, and in which she was a paid servant, hatred of all capitalists is an important part of the teaching, also hatred with all people who were in any way connected with the old Czarist regime, the children being taught to put the blame of anything that goes wrong at their doors. Any teacher breathing a word in favor of capitalists or capitalistic nations is in danger of the slave camps.

It is noteworthy that while at the lecture Mrs. Steeves apparently gave approval to such methods and the next day, in the Legislature, she roundly condemned the search of a teacher's house by the police looking for Communist literature. Why should such action in Canada be disgraceful and at the same time far worse procedure on the part of Russia be regarded as a beneficial example to the world?

No, Mrs. Steeves, if you wish an example to hold before Canadian eyes why not select Great Britain, where great progress is being made, as recently described by Mr. Speaker Perry. There, with no bloodshed or loss of freedom, no filling of prisons, but rather with an ever increasing of the closing of such institutions, no censorship, no secret police or huge standing army, a social revolutionary movement is taking place of amazing proportions. There, as the result of a happy co-operation between government, employers and employees, happiness and prosperity are fast returning and even those upon the dole are infinitely better fed and housed than the employed of Russia.

HERBERT BOOTHMAN.

FLOWERS SENT TO HOSPITALS

Daffodils Convey Easter Greetings to Island Towns And Ottawa

With cordial Easter greetings from Victoria, 200 dozen daffodils left this morning for hospitals at Duncan, Nanaimo, Alberni, Comox, Cumberland and Ladysmith.

The flowers were grown and donated by Dirk Van der Bent and packed by Mrs. Leeming, wife of Mayor David Leeming. They were shipped by the Tourist Trade Development Association, over Vancouver Island Coach Lines, Limited, through courtesy of Harold Husband.

At Duncan, Mayor James Greig will personally distribute the daffodils. Mayor John Barsby, Nanaimo; Mayor C. J. Spratt, Alberni; Mayor M. S. Stephens, Courtenay; Mayor Maxwell, Cumberland, and Mayor W. W. Walkem, Ladysmith, will make the presentations for their respective towns.

Patients in Ottawa hospitals will be presented with 130 dozen daffodils from the Tourist Trade Development Association tomorrow morning. They were also grown by Mr. Van der Bent and will be distributed by Mayor Stanley Lewis.

Mr. Van der Bent has spent a lifetime in the bulb growing business and learned his trade on the most advanced farms in Holland. He believes the southern end of Vancouver Island is particularly adapted to bulb culture and is prepared to answer any questions or give free tuition and advice to any person interested in the business.

Ministers Consider Proposal For Sunday Evening Services on Show Boat

Members of the Ministerial Association at the monthly meeting Monday gave favorable consideration to an overture from the Tourist Trade Development Association regarding a proposed series of sacred concerts, to be held on the Inner Harbor Show Boat after church services on Sunday evenings during July, August and September.

As outlined to the association, the programme would consist of a vocal ensemble somewhat after the style of the Seth Parker radio presentation, to be followed by a choral religious service, with a brief address, which would be in charge of the various participating churches in turn.

For the purpose of clarifying the situation, a committee of the association will confer with representatives of the Tourist Trade Development Association and report to a special meeting of ministers, to be held at the close of the Good Friday service at Metropolitan Church. During the discussion, the opportunity of bringing the religious message to a large open-air audience, was stressed as one to be taken advantage of.

NEED OF WORLD

In a thoughtful paper on "God in the Life of Today," Rev. Dr. G. B. Switzer affirmed that in the present time of strain, the world sorely needed the Christian idea of God as the creative power working in human life toward unity. His purpose of unification would gather into one all economic and nationalistic divisions. The duty of humanity, therefore, it was pointed out, was to co-operate with the divine plan, the result of which would be peace and the movement of the race toward a happy goal.

Any special observance of Victoria Day on May 24 should be left, it was decided, to the individual congregation. A resolution of sympathy was passed with Rev. Dr. E. A. Henry in the recent death of his wife.

MILLET'S GRANDSON JAILED FOR FORGERY

VALENCIENNES, France, April 7 (CP-Havas).—Jean Charles Millet, grandson of Jean Francois Millet, famous painter of "The Reapers" and "The Angelus," sat behind prison bars here today after a flight to Belgium in an attempt to escape a six-month jail sentence for forgery of his grandfather's name on bogus canvases.

The convicted man, arrested yesterday on the frontier after expulsion from Belgium, had provided museums and galleries with clever imitations of his grandfather's paintings.

Mexican Churches Reopen

Roman Catholics once more are being given the opportunity to practise the religion professed by more than 16,000,000 of Mexico's 18,000,000 inhabitants. President Cardenas has decided to permit the reopening of the many hundreds of churches closed by governors or other officials without a presidential order. The churches remain the property of the nation. Crowds of the faithful are shown flocking to the reopened Cathedral, in Mexico City, for the first Mass.

FLOODS THREATENING TO ADD TO DISASTER

A composite estimate of property losses was placed at $25,000,000, with uncounted thousands homeless and thousands injured. Relief officials expressed belief many more bodies of the dead would be uncovered before all the wreckage is removed.

The threatening floods, following the South's most disastrous Winter and Spring in a decade, brought a serious threat to numerous communities which escaped the storms.

Seventeen highways were closed by high water in North Carolina and six in South Carolina, where two railroad lines were inundated.

RIVERS ARE FLOODED

Alabama's larger rivers were flooded, but little damage was indicated thus far.

Thousands of lowland residents on the Tennessee side of the river, however, were routed from their homes, and thousands more were ready to evacuate.

At Gainesville, 2,500 were homeless, upward of 1,000 homes were in ruins and more than 1,200 were injured. Four trainloads of the injured were hospitalized in Atlanta, seventy miles away.

BASIC INDUSTRIES RECORD PROGRESS

actions, compared with 268 in the same months last year. The estimated value of Crown revenues alone from these tracts is placed at in excess of $160,000 at completion of the licence periods.

MINES $12,000,000

Mineral production of between $11,000,000 and $12,000,000 is estimated for the first quarter, or on a par with the value of the output in the first three months of last year. Gold and silver prices remained steady, with lead and zinc prices improving in the base metal group. Copper, like coal, is under a decline in British Columbia.

Sullivan and Trail properties are working at capacity in the base metal division, with gold producers maintaining about the same total output as in the first three months of 1935.

WAS HARD WINTER

Agriculture commenced the year with the handicap of a severe Winter, a break in livestock prices from pork, and a shortage of fodder crops for feed in Lower Mainland sections. A retarded Spring, however, may prove a blessing in disguise; livestock prices are steadying, with a tendency to firm on a better level, and Interior farmers have already profited by the lack of hay and feed at Coast points.

New acreage has been added over the Winter in most areas, absorbing 7,000 cases of stumping powder in the process. Poultry has swung into a year with a general increase in demand and price for its products for a betterment of 20 per cent in some respects over the start of last year.

Fruit and vegetable crops cannot be estimated so early in the season, but given reasonable weather conditions improved returns are being looked for generally. Marketing remains the chief problem of agriculture, say those in touch with the situation facing the province as a whole.

Meanwhile, the drawbacks of a glutted livestock market, a poor lambing season, and an unusually long period for stall-fed livestock are being gradually corrected.

HALIBUT OPENED EARLY

Little can be ascertained about fisheries in the first quarter of the year. Approximately the same number of salmon, herring, pilchard and cold storage plants have been licensed by the Province for the current season, and whaling is to continue at Rose and Naden Harbors.

The halibut fleets got away on March 16 for a start actually two weeks ahead of last year, when strike troubles delayed the opening of operations after the official season had commenced.

Pilchard canning is being tried again this year, as are herring and pilchard reduction. The bulk of the British Columbia fishery season, including the profitable salt fish business, comes later in the year, with salmon leading as the basic product.

PROSPECTS GOOD

Summing up all four industries, Provincial officials believe that they will hold their own this year in respect to the volume and value of the respective outputs, while at several points the industries are expected to break new ground.

Three-quarters of the entire output from the basic industries of the province are marketed abroad under highly competitive conditions. Despite this, they have recovered $50,000,000 in the annual value of products within the last three years, as the contribution of private endeavor.

WOMEN PREFER MASS DISPLAY

W. J. Hindley, of Seattle, Gives Concise Talk Here On Retailing

Department stores are a success because women like mass display, crowds, and the idea of doing all their shopping under one roof, W. J. Hindley, of Seattle, told members of retail merchants' section of the Chamber of Commerce and Credit Granters' Association, yesterday afternoon. The meeting in Spencer's dining-room was presided over by W. T. Straith.

Mr. Hindley is a former Congregational minister of Winnipeg, ex-mayor of Spokane, and now manager of Retail Grocers' Association of Washington. He dealt principally with chain stores in his talk.

There were a few fanatical persons in the United States who would like to tax chain stores out of existence, Mr. Hindley related. His quarrel with chain stores was because of special concessions they enjoyed through secret rebates and preferential discounts. Successful competition could not be maintained by any type of store against these special privileges, he believed.

SHOWED SHRINKAGE

He told how chain store stocks showed a shrinkage of $42,000,000 last year because the investing public was turning to other securities. This meant that chain stores had to exist solely by serving the public.

The three basic factors in business, the wholesaler, retailer and manufacturer, could not be disturbed without upsetting the whole economic picture, he said. Referring to co-operatives, he declared the movement was more successful in Canada than in the United States, but the idea was being revived across the border.

Mr. Hindley graphically described how an inefficient or slothful retail merchant could slow up the whole industry, for merchandise could not be moved faster than the retail merchant moved his goods to the general public. He asserted that distribution of the finished product determined prosperity of the market, and regretted that schools did not give training in that phase of business.

CREDITS IMPROVED

Credits had improved considerably during the past year, Mr. Hindley stated. More foodstuffs were being purchased for cash in Washington State. No merchant could afford to extend credit for thirty to sixty days when he had only ten days in which to pay the wholesaler, he said.

In conclusion, Mr. Hindley described a new credit service in Seattle by means of which a customer made all purchases on one credit card and received one itemized bill at the end of the month. The service was handled by a central bureau, and a merchant was enabled to receive cash from the bank daily, if necessary.

ISLAND PRAISED IN EASTERN U.S.

Visitor to Victoria Astounds Law Class With Remarks About This City

Vancouver Island has a volunteer publicity agent in the Eastern United States—a twenty-three-year-old law student at Harvard University, who visited here last year.

In an interesting letter he sent to the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, yesterday, he referred to the Island as "a gem of a place."

In part he wrote: "In Victoria people seem to enjoy life. There is a sparkle in their eyes and a smile on their faces that one does not often see on our continent. Why shouldn't there be? After all, in Victoria one feels one is on top of the world, and deservedly so."

The visitor found residents here extremely polite—"genuine folk."

He related the following incidents which occurred in his classroom recently:

"There was being discussed a 'case' wherein a man boarded a ship entrusted with two bags of gold. The ship was docked in New York. Immediately on reaching his stateroom said gentleman deposited said gold on his bureau and left his quarters for a few minutes. When he returned the gold was gone. It had been stolen. The court held the gentleman responsible; it said he was negligent in leaving gold entrusted to him so carelessly in view—although in his own stateroom.

"Various students spoke up in class and affirmed the court's reasoning.

"Suddenly I spoke; (200 in the class). I asked 'Would the court have decided differently if said gentleman arrived from Victoria by plane and just boarded ship and left said gold thusly exposed?'

"'Why should a person from Victoria be excused?' I was asked.

"'Well, sir,' I replied, 'people don't even lock their cars in Victoria. They are an honest people.'

"Everyone in the class sat bolt upright—dumbfounded. I felt I had paid a worthy tribute to your fair city.

"However, not to be outdone by sentimental reasoning, a hard-headed Kentuckian responded and said: 'Whenever any man goes to New York and boards a ship, whether he be from Victoria or Samoa, he does so at his own peril, sir——.'"

SOME POINTS ABOUT ASTHMA

When a textbook in medicine gives over two hundred ways of treating and preventing an ailment, it is a sign that the cause of the ailment is not known or that the symptoms are due to so many causes that these various causes must be treated.

I am speaking of asthma and asthmatic attacks in which the patient gets a severe tightening in the chest, a feeling of suffocation, the breathing is of a wheezing nature, eyeballs become prominent, the bloodvessels in the neck stand out, lips are blue, and usually patient tries to get to a window to obtain more air.

It is now known that some cases of asthma are due to a sensitiveness to foods and other substances, others to defects in nose and throat, others to gland disturbances, while more than half the cases appear to be inherited.

The treatment during an attack is usually an injection of adrenalin—the juice from the adrenal glands situated one on top of each kidney. However, physicians and patients want more than simply relief during an attack. Besides, the adrenalin has to be injected, which is not always easy or convenient without a physician.

Research workers are therefore seeking methods of preventing attacks, and so removal of defects of nose and throat, avoiding certain foods and other substances to which the patient may be sensitive, breathing exercises in which the air at the bottom of the lungs is forced out by using abdominal muscles, use of a teaspoonful of common table salt a half hour before meals, have all helped some cases.

Dr. Marjorie Gillespie, in Quarterly Journal of Medicine, Oxford, records a series of test meals in 109 asthmatic patients. By removing the meal from the stomach by means of a tube at definite periods of time after eating she found that a great many of the cases did not have as high a percentage of hydrochloric acid in the digestive juice as is found in normal individuals. Treatment to increase the amount of hydrchloric acid in the stomach juice showed that as the percentage increased the improvement in the patients increased also.

This may explain, to some extent, the improvement in asthma cases by the use of table salt, as recorded by Dr. Pottenger in California Medicine some months ago. Salt contains chlorine, as does the hydrochloric acid of the stomach juice.

ELEVEN PERSONS DIE AS PLANE CRASHES

The dead, identified by the company's passenger list, were:

Arthur R. Evans, Pittsburgh.

Charles H. Smith, New Kensington, Pa.

D. V. August, Grove City, Pa.

Crawford Kelly, McKeesport, Pa.

Frank Hardiman, Rutherford, N.J.

G. W. Hefferman, New York City.

Four of the passengers were cadets at Valley Forge Military Academy—August, Evans, Smith and Kelly. They had started gaily homeward for Easter vacations. Their mothers waited for them at the Allegheny County Airport, near Pittsburgh.

FLYING BY INSTRUMENTS

The crew of the Sun Racer had been aware of the flying difficulties. Chief Pilot Ferguson had reported by radio at 10:09 a.m., that he was flying by instruments and would not attempt to land at Pittsburgh. Then came the crash.

In New York, officials of the line said late today that reports from the plane indicated "the radio beam was no longer functioning accurately."

The company promised an immediate investigation.

Airline officials said Miss Granger probably escaped because she rode in the rear of the plane. She had been in the employ of the air transport company only a few months. Her fellow crew members, the pilots, had seen years of service.

SEARCHING FOR CHILD MISSING FROM TRAIL

TRAIL, B.C., April 7 (CP.)—Search parties today continued search for Julien Burtnick, five-year-old girl, missing since Saturday. Volunteer search parties returned home late last night and reported failure in their efforts after hours of searching. The little girl was last seen near her home on Saturday afternoon.

Adjudicators Give Helpful Suggestions

D. T. Yacamini and Arthur Cranmer, the two British adjudicators who judged the choral and vocal classes in the Musical Festival, by special invitation attended the regular weekly practice of the Victoria Male Choir on Monday evening, and very graciously added great interest to the occasion by addressing the choir and giving some very helpful advice and suggestions. Mr. Yacamini conducted the choir through several numbers.

The Arion Club joined the gathering during the course of the evening and benefited by the practical comments of the two distinguished visitors, and later the two choirs combined and, directed by Frank Tupman, sang "Now the Night in Starlit Splendor."

The affair took place in the Crystal Garden auditorium downstairs, the combined choirs and their guests bringing the total attendance to more than 100. Among the other special guests were the president and vice-president of the Musical Festival, P. A. Gibbs and William Muncy; W. C. Fyfe, conductor of the Arion Club, and C. C. Warren, leader of the Fairfield Choir. The president of the Victoria Male Choir, J. Cleator, voiced the thanks and appreciation of the two choral bodies to the adjudicators. Refreshments were served, and the proceedings concluded with the singing of "They Are Jolly Good Fellows."

Welfare Work Described by Miss Holland

Miss Laura Holland was guest speaker at the monthly meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to the Children's Aid Society, held in the Soroptimist Club room recently. In part, she spoke of conditions which make children delinquent, of the importance of family life and the building up of the same. Every century has changed the public attitude with regard to child welfare.

Education was the right of every child, and no parent had a right to prevent it. The state had raised the standard of living, Miss Holland said. The first attempt to establish a home for helpless children took place in the last century. The man who did most to arouse interest in child welfare was St. Vincent de Paul in Europe in the sixteenth century. The difficulty in the past was that no one had authority. Now the state had institutions for the protection of children under the Child Protection Act.

Real success depended largely on what could be done to keep the home together, or if that were impossible, to remove the child, Miss Holland continued. Once the child's morale was broken, it was hard to bring the child back to normal decency. The younger the child, the better the results in dealing with any child problem. Miss Holland made an appeal for public support and hoped more homes might be found for needy children.

Miss Alice Ravenhill proposed a hearty vote of thanks to Miss Holland for her inspiring address.

Peter Has Hard Work to Believe His Eyes

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

So Peter had started off by himself.

The very morning that Jimmy Skunk had decided to go see for himself this stranger of whom Sammy Jay and Blacky the Crow and Unc' Billy Possum told such strange stories, Peter Rabbit had made up his mind that he just had to see for himself what was going on. He had not been into the deepest part of the Green Forest since the time when he had found the strange tracks in the snow. The truth is, Peter had been afraid to go. But now his curiosity had been aroused so by what Sammy Jay and Blacky the Crow had said that he couldn't keep away any longer. First he looked for his cousin, Jumper the Hare. Jumper had not been afraid when Peter had told him about those strange tracks, and he felt sure that Jumper would not be afraid now. But Jumper was nowhere to be found. In fact, Peter had not seen him for some time, not since Sammy Jay had first come screaming out of the Green Forest with his story of the big stranger with the terrible claws.

So Peter had started off by himself. His heart went pit-a-pat, pit-a-pat, and he sat up to look and listen so often that it took him longer than ever before to reach the pond of Paddy the Beaver deep in the Green Forest. Not once had Peter seen or heard anything to make him afraid, and by the time he had reached Paddy's pond he had begun to feel very brave and bold. In fact, he had almost begun to doubt if there was any such stranger as Sammy had described.

Then all of a sudden, right on the shore of Paddy's pond, Peter saw a sight that made him quite gasp for breath. Yes, sir, it quite took Peter's breath away. What was it? Why, it was the meeting between Jimmy Skunk and the big stranger. Of course, Peter expected to see Jimmy run as fast as ever he could. "Jimmy seldom hurries, but he will this time," thought Peter.

But Peter was wrong. Jimmy did nothing of the kind. For a minute he just stared and stared. The big black stranger kept right on coming. Then, instead of running, Jimmy went forward to meet him. Yes, sir, Jimmy Skunk just marched straight toward the stranger with his head and tail held high. The big black stranger stopped and eyed Jimmy a bit doubtfully. Then he stood up on his hind legs and he was as tall as Farmer Brown's Boy. This made Jimmy stop for a minute. Never had he seen anyone but Farmer Brown's Boy himself who could stand like that. But it wouldn't do to let this stranger think that just because he was big and had cruel-looking claws he could scare everybody, and so Jimmy once more marched forward. You know he really has a great deal of confidence in that little bag of scent he always carries with him. The stranger growled. Jimmy kept right on. Then what do you think happened? Why, that great, big stranger began to back away! Peter Rabbit could hardly believe his own eyes.

WHAT UNIVERSITY HAS A GROCER?

After all, what is it that a grocer should learn? Nowadays it isn't what HE thinks. It's what Mrs. Public wants. Comparative values, cleanliness, sanitation, attractiveness, orderliness, politeness, tact, promptness, these are the things that make for an efficient grocer these days—and these things are being taught to keen, young, ambitious men in the Safeway organization from Victoria to Fort William. Those who learn to serve you well, Mrs. Public, command good wages and earn them. Perhaps, after all, the Safeway is the very best university for the grocery business that there could be; theory and practice go hand in hand.

Bride-to-Be Honored

Miss Lillian Aldridge, whose marriage to Mr. Donald Sydney Blackmore will take place in May, was the guest of honor recently when the Misses Torie and Gladys Rennie entertained with a miscellaneous shower. Master Terry Rennie, with his face blackened, presented the gifts from a wagon decorated in black and white to represent a Kingham-Gillespie coal truck, Miss Aldridge being a member of that firm. Carrying out this clever idea, the gifts were wrapped in black cellophane, giving the effect of coal. During the evening several contests were enjoyed, the prizes being won by Mrs. C. Burns, Mrs. J. Rodd and Mrs. D. Smith. Refreshments were served by the hostesses from a table effectively arranged, the centrepiece being a white swan and two smaller black swans on a table mirror in which were arranged white carnations and greenery. Black and white candles in silver candelabra completed the pretty setting. Mrs. W. J. Rennie and Mrs. Walter Rennie assisted. The jolly evening was brought to a close with the singing of "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow." The invited guests included: Mrs. F. Aldridge, Mrs. S. Blackmore, Mrs. W. J. Rennie, Mrs. F. Popham, Mrs. T. Gillingham, Mrs. M. Parfitt, Mrs. A. S. Imrie, Mrs. G. Erikson, Mrs. D. Smith, Mrs. J. Rodd, Mrs. Burns, Mrs. D. Stephens, Mrs. B. Gillie, Mrs. N. Bertucci, Mrs. W. W. Rennie, Mrs. D. Munroe, Mrs. W. F. Fullerton, Misses M. Hamilton, M. Baker, G. McLaughlin, J. Brown, A. Hobbis, Q. Shields, H. Jenkin, D. Bray, I. Leetham, N. Parfitt, Vera Parfitt and Master Terry Rennie.

Informal Reception

Mrs. J. H. Gillespie, "Windyhaugh," Fairfield Road, lent her home on Sunday evening to the Bach group for an informal reception in honor of the executive of the Musical Festival and the visiting adjudicators, Mr. Harold Samuel, Mr. D. T. Yacamini and Mr. Arthur Cranmer. A most informal and happy evening, which included a succession of impromptu musical numbers, was spent, among those contributing to the entertainment being Dr. Gustav Preiswerck's quintette, which played most delightfully from the Mozart Quintette No. 2; Mr. Randolf Hokanson, of Seattle, who, brought by his hostess, Mrs. J. O. Cameron, played a Chopin "Barcarolle"; Miss Dorothy Parsons, who sang; Mr. "Bert" Botten, 'cellist, who played the festival contest number, "Tarantella" by Popper, accompanied by Miss Sheila Conway; and each of the visiting British adjudicators. These last, of course, were given special prominence in the extempore programme, Mr. Cranmer singing three numbers; Mr. Samuel playing two Bach compositions and subsequently adding, as a delicate compliment to the Bach enthusiasts, a "divertissement" which he had specially written and dedicated to them, and Mr. Yacamini conducting a percussion band. The hostesses representing the Bach group who assisted Mrs. Gillespie were Mrs. W. E. Ellis, Mrs. Ciceri and Mrs. Talbot.

Enjoyable Event

In connection with the happily-arranged "at home" for which Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Mayhew, Beach Drive, lent their home on Monday evening to the Musical Arts Society, guests enjoyed an informal hour following the talk given by Mrs. J. O. Cameron, and the musical numbers by Mr. Harold Samuel, Mr. Randolf Hokansen, Miss Dorothy Parsons, Miss Phyllis Deaville, Mr. Dudley Wickett and Mr. Jack Townsend. The club president, Mrs. C. S. Beals, acted as joint hostess with Mrs. Mayhew, and presiding at the artistically arranged supper table with its central bowl of pink tulips and iris were Mrs. Harold Campbell and Mrs. H. F. Lasenby, while those serving, under the direction of Mrs. D. B. Keir and Miss Scowcroft, were Misses Dorothy Parsons, Lora Blake, Elsie Friend, Mary Hughes, Jean Mayhew and Dorothy McMicking.

Miscellaneous Shower

Mrs. B. Irvine and Mrs. P. Minckle were hostesses at a miscellaneous shower recently at the home of Mrs. Minckle, 619 Toronto Street, in honor of her sister, Miss Doris Humphries, whose marriage to Mr. Arthur Harris will take place tomorrow night. Winners of the games were Mrs. Harris and Mrs. Southall. Supper was served from a table centred with daffodils and arranged with green place cards and individual candy cups. Those invited were Mesdames R. Humphries, M. Humphries, Harris, Southall, L. Glazan, P. Irvine, Treathy, B. Whitfield, R. M. Hurst, Misses J. and H. Mellings, M. Irvine and N. Whitfield.

Is Studio Guest

Mr. Arthur Cranmer, of London, England, who has been here for the past ten days in connection with his work as adjudicator at the Musical Festival, was the special guest at Mme. Among those contributing to the programme were Mrs. Kathleen Lavell, Miss Violet Wilson, Miss Eleanor Walker, Miss Sheila Conway, Miss Honor Benson, Mr. Alva Wetherell and Mr. Don Brake.

Girl Guide Notes

FIRST ANNIVERSARY

The Hillier's Girl Guides recently held their first anniversary social in the school. There are two patrols in this association, the Red Rose Patrol at Hilliers and the Swallows Patrol at Coombs and Errington. The Red Rose Patrol put on a programme of Guide work, including knot tying, signaling and a sketch illustrating signaling, and also a humorous sketch, entitled "Mechanical Jane," finishing with some vocal numbers and recitations. The Ladies' Association sponsored a dance for the Guides, after which refreshments were served by the Guides, who made most of the cakes and sandwiches. They also held a sale of home-made candies during the evening. The proceeds of the dance and candy stall will go to the Guide fund. Seven of the girls received their first service pins and four are nearly ready for their second-class tests. The headquarters are at the home of Mrs. Stanley Clark, who is a great helper in their training.

MEETING CANCELED

No meeting of the Arts and Crafts Society will be held on Monday, as that day is a holiday, being Easter Monday. The next meeting will be held April 20.

To Perform Cantata on Atonement

The sacred cantata, "Atonement," from the pen of the composer, R. Deane Shure, will be given in the St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church by the choir this evening at 8 o'clock.

The theme of the "Atonement" begins with the triumphal entry of the Lord Jesus into Jerusalem the final week before His Crucifixion. The Lament of Peter depicts the denial of the Lord by the Apostle, and represents the denial of Christ by all men who reject Him or are untrue to Him. The following numbers recite the great Messianic prophecy of Isaiah, completely and literally fulfilled in Jesus.

The theme of the cantata proceeds with the dark scene of the brutal treatment of the Saviour by the Roman soldiery, bringing it to the climax of the Crucifixion, the darkness which spread over the land, the earthquake, and the rending of the Temple veil.

The next part exemplifies the grief of Mary Magdalene, the first person to arrive at the sepulchre on the eventful morning of the Resurrection. Her grief also typifies the sorrow of the disciples, and the still lingering hope that all would yet be made right "in life's tomorrow." This grief is suddenly and joyfully dissipated by the appearance of the angels proclaiming the great good news, "The Lord is risen." The story then tells of the appearance of Jesus by the Sea of Galilee and the reconciliation of Peter after the glad cry of recognition, "It is the Lord."

The finale ends with the Great Commission to all believers to "Go into all the world and make disciples of all the nations." Jesse A. Longfield will be at the organ and will be assisted by the following soloists: Miss Isabelle Crawford, soprano; Miss Agnes Hood, contralto; William Draper, tenor, and Arnold W. Trevett, baritone.

Women's Institutes

QUALICUM BEACH

A military whist drive was held in the Community Hall recently, under the auspices of the Qualicum Beach District Institute. Thirteen tables were in play. The winners were Mr. and Mrs. Thorlborn and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McMillan. For the second prize, forts five and eight tied, with number eight winning the cut. Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Aldous and Miss H. Jarvis and Mr. W. H. Bartlett being the lucky four. Mrs. H. K. Harrison gave her services as conductor of the games, and at the close, on behalf of the Women's Institute, she was presented with a small gift in appreciation by Mrs. G. Mant. Mrs. W. Thrall was convener of the refreshments.

CHOIR TO RENDER CANTATA FRIDAY

"The Darkest Hour," by Harold Moore, to Be Presented at Emmanuel Church

Under the leadership of W. H. Muncy, the choir of Emmanuel Baptist Church will render the cantata, "The Darkest Hour," by Harold Moore, at 8 o'clock on the evening of Good Friday. The work is peculiarly suitable to the season of Lent, depicting as it does the scenes in Gethsemane, the trials of Christ and the road to Calvary.

The soloists include Miss May Zala, Miss Rosiemai Parfitt, Mr. J. Oakman, Mr. E. Pearson, Mr. Harold Parfitt and Mr. J. Maynard. Miss Winifred Scowcroft will preside at the organ, assisted by Mrs. G. H. E. Green at the piano.

Before the cantata, Miss Scowcroft will give a short organ recital, to be preceded by the well-known trio, Margaret Pringle, pianist; John Pynn, violinist, and Herbert Botten, cellist.

This programme of sacred music is to be given in the main auditorium of the church, Gladstone Avenue and Fernwood Road, and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Letters to the Editor

No letter to the Editor will be inserted except over the proper signature and address of the writer. This rule admits of no exception. No letter should exceed 300 words in length.

THE SABBATH DAY

Sir,—Your correspondent, Mr. Van, in writing on the above subject expresses a desire to know of people keeping the Lord's Sabbath.

The Lord has always had a people who have kept the Sabbath Day holy according to the commandment. Sacred and profane history make this quite plain. The Hebrew race can point with just pride to their faithfulness in this matter, the Seventh Day Baptists and also the Seventh Day Adventists represented in Victoria and all over the world. There are hundreds of thousands of Sabbath keepers, speaking seven hundred different languages and dialects and publishing literature in about two hundred languages.

These people demonstrate that it is possible to keep God's law and fulfill his commands, not in their own strength, but like the great apostle they may say, "I live, yet not I, but Christ liveth in me." And where Christ is, there is power and victory.

The keeping of God's law and commands does not include the numerous Sabbaths and holy days spoken of in the Old Testament. These were all done away at the Cross, when the veil was rent in twain and the sacrifices and oblations ceased, and the Lamb prepared by the Eternal Father from the beginning was then offered, and, after the ascension, Jesus became our High Priest in the heavenly sanctuary, and the door is now open for every human being to have access to Him and present his case.

The calendar referred to by Mr. Van has no bearing on the matter. The week is fixed by the Sabbath institution. This is evident from the word Sabbat, or Sabbata, denoting a week among the Syrians, Christian Persians and Ethiopians, as in the ancient Syriac calendar, expressed in the Chaldean alphabet, and translated thus: One of the Sabbath, or week, Sunday; Two of the Sabbath, Monday; Three of the Sabbath, Tuesday; Four of the Sabbath, Wednesday; Five of the Sabbath, Thursday; Eve of the Sabbath, Friday; the Sabbath, Saturday.

The high antiquity of the calendar is evinced by the use of the cardinal numbers—one, two, three, etc., instead of the ordinals, first, second, third, etc. It is remarkable that all the evangelists follow the Syriac both in the word used for "a week" and also "one of the week" to express the day of the resurrection.

The early Christians reckoned their days from evening to evening, according to the order which is mentioned in the first chapter of Genesis, in the account of the work of creation, "The evening and the morning were the first day." Their Sabbath, therefore, or seventh day, began at sunset on the day we call Friday and lasted till the same time on the day following; it is still the same.

The weekly cycle has never changed, and it is a remarkable fact that when Columba sailed from Ireland to the small island of Iona, he found people keeping the Seventh Day Sabbath as taught in the Old and New Testament.

TOLD OF BEAUTY ON VANCOUVER ISLAND

Mlle. Marguerite de Gusseme, of Harrison Hot Springs, recently completed a good will tour of the United States and Canada, as an ambassador of Vancouver's Golden Jubilee and a representative of Vancouver Island.

To thousands of potential travelers in Edmonton, Calgary, Montreal, Toronto, Boston, Philadelphia, Washington, D.C., St. Louis, Chicago and Los Angeles, she told of the wonders and beauties of this Island and showed pictures of the Malahat Drive, B. P. Butchart's Gardens, the Crystal Garden and the Empress Hotel.

GETTING WELL AFTER FALL OF 130 FEET

TORONTO, April 7 (CP).—Rolph Wills, fifty-two, of Weston Road, fell 130 feet from Bloor Street viaduct, Monday. He was pronounced definitely out of danger today, except for the possibility of pneumonia.

Doctors, astounded at his rapid improvement, gave his injuries as a fractured leg and cheekbone. They said he seemed to be cheerful.

Police can recall no other case where anyone fell from the Bloor viaduct and lived.

Faulty Fountain Leads to Lawsuit

YAKIMA, April 7 (AP).—F. A. St. Clair contended the hot and cold water pipes at the Horticultural Union Warehouse were so mingled the drinking fountain spurted hot water. Moreover, he claimed, he was scalded, and asked $8,570 damages.

ESQUIMALT CLUB

The regular meeting of the Esquimalt Community Club was held on Monday night. A social meeting will be held at the home of the president on April 20, when the winner of the Afghan will be announced. All members will be welcomed. A card party will be held at the home of Mrs. Quinn on April 30, and a daffodil tea at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Forde on April 22.

Topcoated Suit Smart

Three-Piece Costume, Consisting of Wrap and Tailleur Is Deservedly Popular

Above, left, three-piece ensemble showing plaid tweed topcoat; right, two-piece wool suit, minus coat; below, left, suit of ribbed wool with separate white organza jabot; right, street dress of sheer acetate alpaca crepe with separate white faille gilet.

EVERY woman who possibly can is going to have a suit this season. And many of them are going to have the suit with the topcoat, not only because it is one of the most important fashions of the Spring, but because it is so practical as well as good looking.

One is shown at the upper left of our sketch, combining a plaid tweed topcoat and a two-piece woolen suit with a contrasting crepe scarf. The suit's collarless neckline is new. This suit would be effective in navy with navy and powder blue plaid coat, or brown suit with brown and beige coat.

The sketch at the top right shows the suit minus the topcoat. Notice the large patch pockets and the straight front closing.

FRILLY JABOT

The suit at the left-below is feminimized by a frilly jabot of white organza. The suit is a trimly tailored model of ribbed wool, and the jabot is separate from the suit. Navy, brown or black would be equally good for this suit.

The last figure is wearing a very new looking street dress of sheer acetate alpaca crepe with buttons starting at the waist and running down the skirt, which has inverted pleats for fullness. A separate white faille gilet is an attractive part of this dress, which comes in navy, brown or black.

Paris continues its indorsement of suits for the entire Spring and Summer, and in materials running all the way from mannish woolens to chiffons. This, of course, makes blouses extremely important in the fashion scheme, and more and more art is being expended to vary them, both in style and fabric.

SWAGGERS CONTINUE

Swagger coats are being shown in the later Paris collections, and promise to be popular all season, particularly those with full backs, slightly shorter than last season's mod is, some just reaching below the waist at front with a slight dip at the back. A prominent Paris furrier predicts that this type will be smart in fur, as well as cloth coats.

For the warmer weather the so-called Palm Beach suit, as mannishly tailored as the woolens, will be the smart thing. These suits come in natural, white grey and the pastels.

BIG ADVANCE IN AVIATION

Progress of United Air Lines Celebrated on Its Tenth Anniversary

Giant three-mile-a-minute air liners, carrying passengers, mail and express, yesterday were streaking on regular schedules over the Pacific Northwest airway, where commercial aviation in the United States had its start ten years ago.

It was on April 6, 1926, that representatives from Pacific Northwest cities gathered in the Southeastern Washington town of Pasco to join in inauguration of the United States' first privately-operated air mail line, from Pasco to Elko, Nev. Speeches were made, flags waved and a stagecoach rumbled in from Spokane with a heavy cargo of mail pouches. Leon D. Cuddeback climbed into a single-engined Swallow airplane, equipped with a 225-horsepower motor and capable of carrying a maximum of 300 pounds of mail. Gunning the motor, he took off for Elko as spectators cheered.

TREMENDOUS PROGRESS

On the tenth anniversary of the event, aviation officials pointed to the tremendous progress recorded in the decade which has seen the United States assume world leadership in aviation. To illustrate the growth under private enterprise, they pointed to figures showing increases from 12,597 passengers in 1927 to 746,946 in 1935; from 1,485,280 pounds of mail in 1927 to 15,000,000 pounds last year, and from virtually no air express to 1,912 tons.

Contrasted with the thirty-three-hour coast-to-coast air mail schedule of 1926, planes of United Air Lines today fly the continent in less than half that time, while the airplane fare from the Pacific Coast to New York has been reduced very considerably.

TERMINAL CHANGED

Soon after the Pasco-Elko service was started, the eastern terminal was changed to Salt Lake. Other lines developed rapidly, and the Pacific Northwest route subsequently became a part of United Air Lines' nation-wide system.

The plane which Cuddeback flew in 1926 has given way to high-speed twin-engined Boeing transports, weighing seven tons, with 1,100 horsepower and a pay load of 2,800 pounds. Cuddeback, incidentally, now is division superintendent of United at Salt Lake.

As a hint of further progress, United Air Lines recently let a contract for twenty-four-passenger transports weighing twelve tons, which will be used on the coast-to-coast airway. The company also has joined with four other lines in contracting for a twenty-five-ton, forty-passenger, four-engined experimental plane, which, if it meets specifications, will be adopted as the type for huge airplanes to be used on the airways of 1938.

Fire on Tricolor Quenched And Assistance Is Not Required

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7 (AP).—Unceasing labor of the Tricolor's crew has at last quenched the fire which has raged for three days in the ship's hold, and the Norwegian vessel now may head for San Francisco, Globe Wireless reported late today.

The message was received here via the President Wilson, Dollar liner which has been standing by, together with the steamship Tacoma, in mid-Pacific between Japan and Hawaii.

The operator on the President Wilson received the message from the coast guard cutter Itasca, which was racing westward from Honolulu toward the stricken ship. The Tricolor message read:

"Will not require assistance as fire now quenched and may change course for San Francisco."

Earlier, the Tricolor refused assistance from the Tacoma, but asked this steamship to stand by, shortly before flames had broken out for a third time in the ship's hold.

Forty members of the crew fought the fire since it broke out Sunday. The sixteen passengers were transferred that day to the British tanker Yarraville.

Honeymoon After Year of Married Life

Photograph by Associated Screen News.

Married fully a year, it was not until Saturday last, however, that Dr. Roy Chapman Andrews, curator of the American Museum of Natural History and internationally known explorer, and Mrs. Andrews, really got away on a honeymoon trip. The Gobi Desert explorer and Mrs. Andrews are shown as they sailed aboard the Ss. Empress of Japan, Canadian Pacific liner, for a sojourn in Peiping, where they will remain some months. Exploring will be off for the time being.

Ship With Cargo Of Salt Strikes On Sunken Rocks

TOKIO, April 7 (AP).—The Scotland Maru, a 5,863-ton freighter carrying a 100,000-yen cargo of salt and no passengers, was abandoned today after going aground on sunken rocks forty miles off the southern coast of Kyushu, large southern island of Japan.

The crew of forty-two took to lifeboats, and all were reported to have landed safely, despite heavy seas.

STATEMENT IS DENIED

Waterfront Workers Take Issue Over Claim of Number Employed

VANCOUVER, April 7 (C). — The civic harbor committee today had on file a complaint that only 120 of the 600 men who participated in recent waterfront labor troubles had been re-employed on the waterfront. The complaint was made yesterday by representatives of the Vancouver and District Waterfront Workers' Association and delegates from the women's auxiliary of the organization.

They denied that 340 men have been taken back and that the 340 included a number who had gone back to work before the trouble ended.

The city relief department issued a statement that since the strike settlement only sixty have dropped from the roles and that 147 former waterfront workers are still on the list.

Aldermen state they can do nothing but urge the Shipping Federation to expedite re-employment of the men.

PRESIDENT IN FROM ENGLAND

Furness Line Ship Docked Last Night—Lumber Vessels Active

Coming in from the United Kingdom by way of Panama, California and Washington ports, the Furness Line motorship Pacific President, Captain G. W. A. Newman, docked at Rithet Piers shortly before 10 o'clock last night.

The President had several passengers aboard, one for Victoria and three for Vancouver. Mrs. Iva E. Luihn is a coastwise visitor for Victoria from San Francisco, while Mrs. Brett boarded the ship at the California port for Vancouver. The other two travelers for the Mainland port were from England: L. L. Duveen, who is making the round trip, and F. Jackson, who will join relatives at New Westminster.

The President had 250 tons of general cargo for this port, and discharged it overnight, proceeding to Vancouver early today.

To load 750,000 feet of lumber for the United Kingdom, the freighter Geddington Court reached Ogden Point Piers at 5 o'clock yesterday morning.

King Brothers stated last evening they are expecting the freighter Harmonic here tomorrow, from the Mainland, to load lumber cargo.

The firm also reported two ships due at William Head, and which will load here later in the month. They are the Ms. Capehorn and the Elmworth. The Capehorn is expected at quarantine tonight and the Elmworth tomorrow.

Second Son of Late Shipowner Passes in California

IN a telegram to W. M. Allan, agent in Victoria for the Dollar Line, American Mail Line and Pacific Steamship Lines, R. Stanley Dollar, head of the combined shipping interests flying the Dollar house flag, stated that J. Harold Dollar, his brother, and the second son of the late Captain Robert Dollar, pioneer Pacific Coast lumber and shipping magnate, had passed away at 1:20 o'clock yesterday afternoon at his home in California.

There were no details. The message came as a blow to Mr. Allan, who valued a friendship of long standing with the deceased. "He was a fine chap," was Mr. Allan's tribute.

An agreement was reached last night, terms of which were not announced, regarding employment demands.

Aboard the North King, first cannery tender en route North for the season, were 220 cannery workers and fishermen.

WIDE CHOICE OF TRAVEL OFFERED

Airplane, Boat, Train and Bus Providing Plenty of Facilities For Holiday Period

Those Victorians who will take advantage of the opportunity to go places and visit with friends over the Easter holiday will have a wide variety of conveyances to choose from, and with four days to play should enjoy a real holiday.

The B.C. Coast Service of Canadian Pacific Steamships, the Black Ball service of Puget Sound Navigation Company, the train service of the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway, the cross-the-gulf service of Canadian Airways to Vancouver and Seattle, the bus service of Vancouver Island Coach Lines, including its ferry connection with Saltspring Island, are all making a bid for patronage, which will no doubt be plentiful enough.

In addition, a special outing of three days is offered holiday makers by Coach Lines. Leaving Friday and returning Sunday, an all-inclusive excursion to the Forbidden Plateau will probably appeal to far more than can be accomodated.

A LONG WAY FROM QUOTA

Only 2.7 Per Cent of Whole Amount Imported First Two Months

United States imports of Canadian Douglas fir and Western hemlock during January and February of this year totaled 6,722,907 board feet, according to preliminary figures supplied the United States Forest Products Division of the Department of Commerce by the Bureau of Customs of the Treasury Department.

The reciprocal trade agreement signed by the United States and Canada last year allotted Canada an annual quota of 250,000,000 board feet of Douglas fir and Western hemlock to enter the United States at a $2 duty and excise tax, which is 50 per cent of the former prevailing tariff.

Should the quota be exhausted, further imports during the year will be subject to the full tariff of $4 per thousand board feet. The figures now available for January and February are not entirely complete, lacking part of the Washington customs district imports during the last week in February. However, the Forest Products Division points out that, based on these preliminary figures, imports for these two months amounted to only 2.7 per cent of the annual amount permitted.

During January and February, 1935, the United States imports of Douglas fir and hemlock totaled 166,000,000 board feet, which represented 2 per cent of the total of 77,000,000 feet imported during the whole of 1935. All of the 1935 imports paid the $4 duty and excise tax.

It is interesting to note, states the Forest Products Division, that the Customs Bureau statistics disclose that the greater portion of the January and February imports came through the districts of Dakota, Duluth and Washington. The bulk of these importations was by rail.

CAPITOL THEATRE A new-style cinematic musicale comes to Victoria in "Give Us This Night," now at the Capitol Theatre with Jan Kiepura and Gladys Swarthout singing and playing the starring roles. Kiepura, star of European movies, concert and opera stage; and Miss Swarthout, lovely Metropolitan Opera soprano, sing both popular and semi-classical music in "Give Us This Night," from a score written by Erich Wolfgang Korngold and Oscar Hammerstein II.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE Shirley Temple essays her first great dramatic role as the dimpled darling of the Confederacy in "The Littlest Rebel," which is now showing at the Playhouse Theatre. The Fox picture again presents Shirley in the company of Bill Robinson, with whom she performs a number of unusual tap dances.

COLUMBIA THEATRE More than six months of research work was necessary to supply authentic backgrounds for Universal's "Diamond Jim," the portrait of the gay nineties, which stars Edward Arnold, and is now playing at the Columbia Theatre.

DOMINION THEATRE Philo Vance falls in love for the first time in his distinguished career in "The Garden Murder Case," newest of the S. S. Van Dine stories to reach the screen. With Edmund Lowe as Philo Vance and Virginia Bruce as a smart, young society girl who captures his heart, the picture is now at the Dominion Theatre with a supporting cast including Benita Hume, Douglas Walton and Nat Pendleton.

HISTORIC INCIDENTS REPRODUCED IN FILM

The extravagant pranks which "Nell Gwyn" played upon her rivals always delighted her Royal lover, Charles II.

The historic incident of the "cartwheel hat," when Nelly humiliated the Duchess of Portsmouth by appearing on the stage of Old Drury staggering under a twelve-foot reproduction of the fashionable new hat the Duchess was wearing in the King's box forms one of the many hilarious incidents in "Nell Gwyn," the Herbert Wilcox film production, released through United Artists and coming Saturday to the Empire Theatre. Anna Neagle plays the title role.

THELMA JOHNS GIVEN LEADING OPERA ROLE

Thelma Johns, who has had outstanding success in several Gilbert and Sullivan operas, has been cast in the role of Princess Inez of Toreara, the principal character in Basil Horsfall's own light opera "Bandit Princess," which will be produced at the Royal Victoria Theatre on April 16, 17 and 18.

The libretto and lyrics for this opera were written by a distinguished Canadian playwright, W. A. Tremayne, and this third production of the season by the Victoria Civic Opera is being looked forward to with a great deal of anticipation, marking as it does the first presentation of Mr. Horsfall's own composition in Victoria.

Replete with tuneful songs, romance and well built-up comedy situations, "Bandit Princess" makes a fitting opening for the post-Lenten theatre season.

AMUSEMENTS—

'THE REDEMPTION' TO BE PRESENTED

Charles Gounod Work to Be Offered Good Friday by Beethoven Choral Club

PROF. J. B. HOFFMAN

Professor John B. Hoffman will direct "The Redemption," by Charles Gounod, on Good Friday at 8 p.m. in the First Baptist Church (Metropolitan Institute). The oratorio will be presented by the Beethoven Choral Club, which was organized by Professor Hoffman in November of last year, and which did remarkably fine work at their first concert on January 22.

The chorus will be assisted by a group of Victoria singers, most of whom won high honors at the Musical Festival.

Miss Patsy Swift, gifted with a rich soprano voice of exceptional beauty, who was the sensation of the festival, and whom Arthur Cranmer, the adjudicator, pronounced the finest singer of the festival, will sing the soprano solo part of "The Redemption" and also Gounod's "O Divine Redeemer" and "Inflammatus" from Rossini's "Stabat Mater."

Other soloists will be Miss Adeline Sangster and Mrs. R. H. Tait (contraltos), Thomas Crabbe (Jesus), Edwin Crabbe (tenor), George F. H. Farmer (tenor - narrator), Harry Nancarrow, Jr. (bass-narrator), Wilfred Demers (baritone), Miss Edna Burgess (soprano), Miss D. Blakeney, Mrs. Colvin and W. Cobbet will assist in the solo quartette and trios. An augmented orchestra of professional musicians will play the score, while Mrs. C. C. Warn will be at the piano and Oliver Stout at the organ.

A patient who had newly arrived at a lunatic asylum was sent out with others to work on the grounds. An old hand intently watched him for some time, then went to him and said: "Unless ye delve wi' the rake, and rake wi' the spade, ma man, ye'll nae be lang here."

REFORESTATION TALK IS GIVEN

A. R. Sherwoods Predicts End of Forests in British Columbia

Within thirty-five years there will be few forests in British Columbia, because of fires, destructive logging methods and insufficient conservation work, A. R. Sherwood told members of the Overseas League in Spencer's dining-room on Monday afternoon.

Mr. Sherwood graphically described how forests conserved moisture and prevented soil erosion. He believed the recent disastrous floods caused by the Potomac and Ohio Rivers would not have occurred if certain forest areas had been left untouched.

In telling of early explorers' notes on glaciers along the Alaskan Coast, Mr. Sherwood related that the petrified remains of a citrous forest had been uncovered by receding ice in Glacier Bay. Traces of red cedar and California redwood had also been found in the Arctic regions, he said.

MISTLETOE PLAGUE

He told how almost total extermination of the opossum and koala bear in Australia resulted in many eucalyptus trees being killed by mistletoe. It appeared these two small animals formerly kept the parasitical plant in check.

Referring to reforestation, Mr Sherwood told of work being done in Kenya Colony, Germany and the Scandinavian countries. He described the Dominion plant for extraction of coniferous seeds at New Westminster, mentioning that 3,600 pounds of seeds had been shipped last year to all parts of the world.

Mr. Sherwood concluded by describing the principal trees of British Columbia, illustrating botanical details with colored drawings.

T. H. Laundy, president of the Overseas League, tendered the speaker a hearty vote of thanks.

SIDNEY, April 7.—The North and South Saanich Horticultural Society met in Wesley Hall, Sidney, for the regular monthly meeting.

E. W. White, of the Provincial Department of Agriculture, was the speaker for the evening. He was accompanied by Mr. Thurston, who showed moving pictures of James Bros.' seed farm. Pictures of Jasper Park were also shown.

The agricultural class of the North Saanich High School had been invited to attend the meeting, and a number were present.

The monthly competition was won by Miss May Williams, who exhibited a bowl of iris.

What Today Means

"ARIES"

If April 8 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 8:30 to 10:30 a.m., from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. and from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. The danger periods are from 6:30 to 8:30 a.m., from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. and from 9:30 to 11:30 p.m.

Bashfulness and timidity more than anything else may disrupt the methodical carrying out of some well-conceived ideas. If you have any orders to be executed entrust them only to someone you know is thoroughly dependable. It will probably take money to make money this day, so the wise businessman will not be afraid to spend if the opportunity presented seems to justify the expense. Coercion is most likely to be a poor method to use in obtaining any desired end. An attempt may be made to have fun at your expense by getting you badly rattled, so keep cool and good natured if friends try to tease, or endeavor to cause you embarrassment. Married and engaged couples, and the love smitten, should do their uttermost to keep in a good humor this day, for peevishness can bring about a very complicated situation.

If a woman and April 8 is your birthday, you might have a tendency to think that you are invariably in the right, especially in matters involving opinions. If you realize that you have this fault, correct it, for it can make you decidedly unpopular. You probably never will have any trouble in making money if you embark upon a commercial or professional career. You are perhaps too generous, and most likely thoroughly unselfish. The likelihood is that you will find the most congenial type of work as a secretary, typist, author, model, hostess, interior decorator, musician, teacher, or artist. The career of a married woman, perhaps, will be the best one for you to follow.

The child born on April 8 usually from its earliest childhood is impulsively affectionate, open-handed and considerate of the feeling of others. There is very little doubt of its being successfully when it grows up.

If a man and April 8 is your natal day, you are apt to have a buoyant disposition, which perhaps will turn out to be a marvelous asset. Most of your expectations are likely to be realized. As a political leader, lawyer, doctor, clergyman, lecturer, architect, railroad man, writer or businessman you are apt to be very fortunate.

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

By Ely Culbertson

● World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

(Mr. Culbertson is acting as referee in a set game between two married couples. He fines the players according to the degree of error. The first hand in the match, reported yesterday, cost the two men $15.)

"Well, Helen," Mrs. Black said, "that hand certainly was a feminine victory. Fifteen dollars in the kitty and not a cent of our money."

"Hardly adequate compensation," was Mrs. White's icy retort, "for finding one has married an idiot!"

The two men having nothing to say, the second hand was dealt.

The bidding

Mr. Black opened the king of hearts, and, receiving a high card from his partner, continued with two more rounds, declarer ruffing the third. The club jack was used as entry and the spade ten for the finesse. West's king won and a spade was returned. Another trump lead accounted for the adverse trumps and then the club queen was overtaken by dummy's king. The diamond queen was next led and East covered. South took the ace, led the nine and let it ride. The finesse succeeding South claimed the remaining tricks and game contract.

I waited for either recrimination or confession, but none was forthcoming.

"Doesn't anyone want to comment on that hand?" I asked. Everyone looked surprised.

"What is there to say? The diamond finesse worked," said Mr Black.

"But there wasn't a true diamond finesse," I pointed out. "Your wife erred in covering the queen. She had nothing to gain by the play. She should have waited for the jack to be led and covered that. Then there would have been no way for declarer to avoid the loss of a diamond trick. Sorry, Mrs. Black, but $2.50, please!"

Mr. Black let out a roar.

"Two-fifty!" he shouted. "What is this, a frame-up? We men pay $5 and $10 for our mistakes! This is no time for chivalry."

"You mind your business," his wife said tartly. "Two-fifty is plenty. Why, you poor fish, you didn't even know there'd been a mistake!"

What Today Means

"ARIES"

If April 8 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 8:30 to 10:30 a.m., from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. and from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. The danger periods are from 6:30 to 8:30 a.m., from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. and from 9:30 to 11:30 p.m.

Bashfulness and timidity more than anything else may disrupt the methodical carrying out of some well-conceived ideas. If you have any orders to be executed entrust them only to someone you know is thoroughly dependable. It will probably take money to make money this day, so the wise businessman will not be afraid to spend if the opportunity presented seems to justify the expense. Coercion is most likely to be a poor method to use in obtaining any desired end. An attempt may be made to have fun at your expense by getting you badly rattled, so keep cool and good natured if friends try to tease, or endeavor to cause you embarrassment. Married and engaged couples, and the love smitten, should do their uttermost to keep in a good humor this day, for peevishness can bring about a very complicated situation.

If a woman and April 8 is your birthday, you might have a tendency to think that you are invariably in the right, especially in matters involving opinions. If you realize that you have this fault, correct it, for it can make you decidedly unpopular. You probably never will have any trouble in making money if you embark upon a commercial or professional career. You are perhaps too generous, and most likely thoroughly unselfish. The likelihood is that you will find the most congenial type of work as a secretary, typist, author, model, hostess, interior decorator, musician, teacher, or artist. The career of a married woman, perhaps, will be the best one for you to follow.

The child born on April 8 usually from its earliest childhood is impulsively affectionate, open-handed and considerate of the feeling of others. There is very little doubt of its being successfully when it grows up.

If a man and April 8 is your natal day, you are apt to have a buoyant disposition, which perhaps will turn out to be a marvelous asset. Most of your expectations are likely to be realized. As a political leader, lawyer, doctor, clergyman, lecturer, architect, railroad man, writer or businessman you are apt to be very fortunate.

At the Theatres

CAPITOL THEATRE A new-style cinematic musicale comes to Victoria in "Give Us This Night," now at the Capitol Theatre with Jan Kiepura and Gladys Swarthout singing and playing the starring roles. Kiepura, star of European movies, concert and opera stage; and Miss Swarthout, lovely Metropolitan Opera soprano, sing both popular and semi-classical music in "Give Us This Night," from a score written by Erich Wolfgang Korngold and Oscar Hammerstein II.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE Shirley Temple essays her first great dramatic role as the dimpled darling of the Confederacy in "The Littlest Rebel," which is now showing at the Playhouse Theatre. The Fox picture again presents Shirley in the company of Bill Robinson, with whom she performs a number of unusual tap dances.

COLUMBIA THEATRE More than six months of research work was necessary to supply authentic backgrounds for Universal's "Diamond Jim," the portrait of the gay nineties, which stars Edward Arnold, and is now playing at the Columbia Theatre.

DOMINION THEATRE Philo Vance falls in love for the first time in his distinguished career in "The Garden Murder Case," newest of the S. S. Van Dine stories to reach the screen. With Edmund Lowe as Philo Vance and Virginia Bruce as a smart, young society girl who captures his heart, the picture is now at the Dominion Theatre with a supporting cast including Benita Hume, Douglas Walton and Nat Pendleton.

HISTORIC INCIDENTS REPRODUCED IN FILM

The extravagant pranks which "Nell Gwyn" played upon her rivals always delighted her Royal lover, Charles II.

The historic incident of the "cartwheel hat," when Nelly humiliated the Duchess of Portsmouth by appearing on the stage of Old Drury staggering under a twelve-foot reproduction of the fashionable new hat the Duchess was wearing in the King's box forms one of the many hilarious incidents in "Nell Gwyn," the Herbert Wilcox film production, released through United Artists and coming Saturday to the Empire Theatre. Anna Neagle plays the title role.

THELMA JOHNS GIVEN LEADING OPERA ROLE

Thelma Johns, who has had outstanding success in several Gilbert and Sullivan operas, has been cast in the role of Princess Inez of Toreara, the principal character in Basil Horsfall's own light opera "Bandit Princess," which will be produced at the Royal Victoria Theatre on April 16, 17 and 18.

The libretto and lyrics for this opera were written by a distinguished Canadian playwright, W. A. Tremayne, and this third production of the season by the Victoria Civic Opera is being looked forward to with a great deal of anticipation, marking as it does the first presentation of Mr. Horsfall's own composition in Victoria.

Replete with tuneful songs, romance and well built-up comedy situations, "Bandit Princess" makes a fitting opening for the post-Lenten theatre season.

'THE REDEMPTION' TO BE PRESENTED

Charles Gounod Work to Be Offered Good Friday by Beethoven Choral Club

PROF. J. B. HOFFMAN

Professor John B. Hoffman will direct "The Redemption," by Charles Gounod, on Good Friday at 8 p.m. in the First Baptist Church (Metropolitan Institute). The oratorio will be presented by the Beethoven Choral Club, which was organized by Professor Hoffman in November of last year, and which did remarkably fine work at their first concert on January 22.

The chorus will be assisted by a group of Victoria singers, most of whom won high honors at the Musical Festival.

Miss Patsy Swift, gifted with a rich soprano voice of exceptional beauty, who was the sensation of the festival, and whom Arthur Cranmer, the adjudicator, pronounced the finest singer of the festival, will sing the soprano solo part of "The Redemption" and also Gounod's "O Divine Redeemer" and "Inflammatus" from Rossini's "Stabat Mater."

Other soloists will be Miss Adeline Sangster and Mrs. R. H. Tait (contraltos), Thomas Crabbe (Jesus), Edwin Crabbe (tenor), George F. H. Farmer (tenor - narrator), Harry Nancarrow, Jr. (bass-narrator), Wilfred Demers (baritone), Miss Edna Burgess (soprano), Miss D. Blakeney, Mrs. Colvin and W. Cobbet will assist in the solo quartette and trios. An augmented orchestra of professional musicians will play the score, while Mrs. C. C. Warn will be at the piano and Oliver Stout at the organ.

REFORESTATION TALK IS GIVEN

A. R. Sherwoods Predicts End of Forests in British Columbia

Within thirty-five years there will be few forests in British Columbia because of fires, destructive logging methods and insufficient conservation work, A. R. Sherwood told members of the Overseas League in Spencer's dining-room on Monday afternoon.

Mr. Sherwood graphically described how forests conserved moisture and prevented soil erosion. He believed the recent disastrous floods caused by the Potomac and Ohio Rivers would not have occurred if certain forest areas had been left untouched.

In telling of early explorers' notes on glaciers along the Alaskan Coast, Mr. Sherwood related that the petrified remains of a citrous forest had been uncovered by receding ice in Glacier Bay. Traces of red cedar and California redwood had also been found in the Arctic regions, he said.

MISTLETOE PLAGUE

He told how almost total extermination of the opossum and koala bear in Australia resulted in many eucalpytus trees being killed by mistletoe. It appeared these two small animals formerly kept the parasitical plant in check.

Referring to reforestation, Mr. Sherwood told of work being done in Kenya Colony, Germany and the Scandinavian countries. He described the Dominion plant for extraction of coniferous seeds at New Westminster, mentioning that 3,600 pounds of seeds had been shipped last year to all parts of the world.

Mr. Sherwood concluded by describing the principal trees of British Columbia, illustrating botanical details with colored drawings.

T. H. Laundy, president of the Overseas League, tendered the speaker a hearty vote of thanks.

SIDNEY, April 7.—The North and South Saanich Horticultural Society met in Wesley Hall, Sidney, for the regular monthly meeting.

E. W. White, of the Provincial Department of Agriculture, was the speaker for the evening. He was accompanied by Mr. Thurston, who showed moving pictures of James Bros.' seed farm. Pictures of Jasper Park were also shown.

The agricultural class of the North Saanich High School had been invited to attend the meeting, and a number were present.

The monthly competition was won by Miss May Williams, who exhibited a bowl of iris.

● World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

(Mr. Culbertson is acting as referee in a set game between two married couples. He fines the players according to the degree of error. The first hand in the match, reported yesterday, cost the two men $15.)

"Well, Helen," Mrs. Black said, "that hand certainly was a feminine victory. Fifteen dollars in the kitty and not a cent of our money."

"Hardly adequate compensation," was Mrs. White's icy retort, "for finding one has married an idiot!"

The two men having nothing to say, the second hand was dealt.

The bidding:

Pass	2 ♠	Pass	4 ♠ (final bid)

Mr. Black opened the king of hearts, and, receiving a high card from his partner, continued with two more rounds, declarer ruffing the third. The club jack was used as entry and the spade ten for the finesse. West's king won and a spade was returned. Another trump lead accounted for the adverse trumps and then the club queen was overtaken by dummy's king. The diamond queen was next led and East covered. South took the ace, led the nine, and let it ride. The finesse succeeding, South claimed the remaining tricks and game contract.

I waited for either recrimination or confession, but none was forthcoming.

"Doesn't anyone want to comment on that hand?" I asked. Everyone looked surprised.

"What is there to say? The diamond finesse worked," said Mr. Black.

"But there wasn't a true diamond finesse," I pointed out. "Your wife erred in covering the queen. She had nothing to gain by the play. She should have waited for the jack to be led and covered that. Then there would have been no way for declarer to avoid the loss of a diamond trick. Sorry, Mrs. Black, but $2.50, please!"

Mr. Black let out a roar.

"Two-fifty!" he shouted. "What is this, a frame-up? We men pay $5 and $10 for our mistakes! This is no time for chivalry."

"You mind your business," his wife said tartly. "Two-fifty is plenty. Why, you poor fish, you didn't even know there'd been a mistake!"

WINGS TROUNCE TORONTO IN SECOND GAME, 9-4

Cuba Defaults to Australia Tennis Team in Davis Cup

International Complications Over Venue of Series Forces Cubans to Withdraw From This Year's Play—Australians Automatically Qualify For Final Contest With Americans

By BOB CAVAGNARO
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, April 7. — International complications over the venue of a series between Cuba and Australia resulted today in the withdrawal of Cuba from 1936 Davis Cup tennis competition.

Drawn against each other in a first-round North American zone tie, the winner of the Cuba-Australia series was scheduled to meet the winner of the American - Mexico joust, to be played at Houston, Tex., April 10-12, with the ultimate victor going into the inter-zone final at Wimbledon in July.

Difficulties developed when Cuba invited Australia to play in Havana and Australia firmly replied that, in order to save travel and maintenance expenses, the series should be played in the United States. Australia met and vanquished Cuba in Havana in 1932 in a second-found contest.

Unable to agree upon the place, the two nations selected the United States Lawn Tennis Association as arbitrator, in accordance with Davis Cup regulations. The arbitrators decided in favor of Australia and suggested the matches be played in New Orleans May 1-3. Thereupon Cuba withdrew.

QUALIFIES FOR FINAL

Thus Australia automatically qualifies for the North American zone final, which will be staged at the Germantown Cricket Club, near Philadelphia, May 30, 31 and June 1. The matches will be played on grass —another point Australia held out for and won.

The Australian team of Jack Crawford, Vivian McGrath and Adrian Quist, in charge of non-playing Captain Clifford Sproule, sailed from Sydney, March 26, and is due to arrive at Vancouver next week.

An American victory over Mexico is considered a foregone conclusion. The United States team of Wilmer Allison, Don Budge, Bryan Grant, Jr., Johnny Van Ryn and Gene Mako will be under the captaincy of Allison for the Mexico matches.

LYNN PATRICK ARRIVES BACK HOME IN CITY

New York Rangers' Forward Motors Home—Enjoyed Good Season in East

Looking in the pink of condition, and tipping the scales at 186 pounds, Lynn Patrick, eldest son of Lester Patrick, manager of the New York Rangers' Hockey Club, with whom he has played for the past two seasons, arrived back in Victoria yesterday morning. In company with his mother, Mrs. Lester Patrick, Lynn motored across the continent in six days, during which he encountered trying conditions and adverse weather. Twice during the trip he was pulled out of the ditch, once by a tow car and the second time by a farmer with a team of horses. At one stage of the trip, Lynn ran into a blizzard and the snow was so heavy he had to wait for it to let up.

LYNN PATRICK

Speaking of his career in the National Hockey League, Lynn stated that he had enjoyed a good season, despite the fact that for the greater part of the playing term he had been handicapped with a chest injury. He first injured his chest in a boxing workout with his brother, Murray, and during the hockey season the injury was aggravated by two heavy body checks.

MID-SEASON SLUMP

The Rangers hit their stride in the latter part of the season, after falling into a mid-season slump, in the opinion of the husky young centre iceman. For ten fixtures Lynn played centre on the Rangers' first-string front line, with Howie Morenz on the left wing and Cecil Dillon on the opposite flank.

The eldest son of Lester Patrick was non-committal on the plans of the Rangers for the coming season, apart from the fact that he mentioned it had been rumored that Bill Cook would become coach.

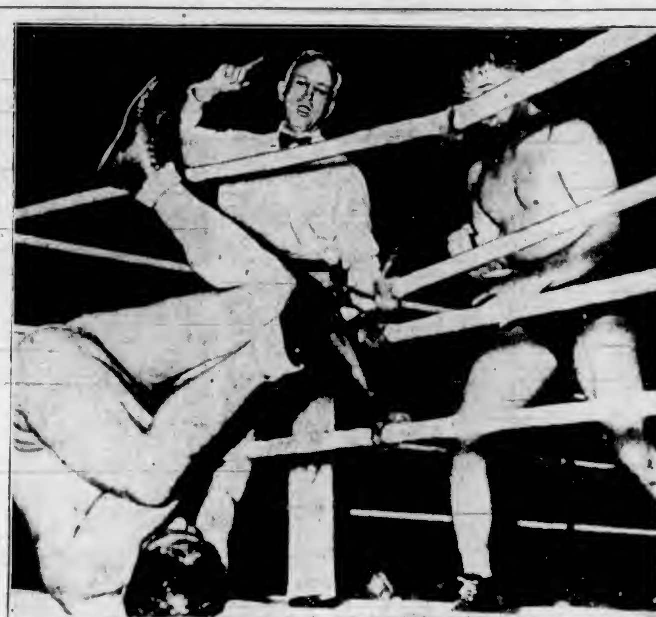

Murray, his brother, will remain in New York all Summer, Lynn stated. After playing amateur hockey all season, Murray has resumed his boxing training and is working out under Jimmy Bronson, who handled Gene Tunney when he was world champion. Questioned as to whether Murray would turn professional or go to the Olympic Games in quest of the world Simon-pure title, Lynn stated he was not sure of his brother's plans for the future.

Victoria hockey fans will be afforded an opportunity of seeing the local player in action during the exhibition games between the Chicago Black Hawks and the Toronto Maple Leafs at Vancouver. Lynn will play for the Black Hawks in the coming series.

Detroit Red Wings, according to Patrick, are the best squad in the National Hockey League. He picks them to win the Stanley Cup.

Lester Patrick, his father, will, in all probability, be back in Victoria in two weeks' time, Lynn stated.

Robert Tosses Savoldi Out of the Ring

Montreal's Yvon Robert, weighing 214 pounds, crafty and powerful, pinned Joe Savoldi, 202-pound wrestling star and former Notre Dame footballer, to step one rung nearer the throne recently seized from Danno O'Mahony by Dick Shikat. The melee, which lasted 21 minutes and 20 seconds, was climaxed when Mons Robert draped the Italian with an arm-scissors hold which forced Savoldi to surrender. Above is shown a chapter in the brawl, when Savoldi was tossed over the ropes as the referee waves Robert away.

DETROIT REGISTERS ONE-SIDED VICTORY WITHOUT DIFFICULTY

Tear Through Leafs' Rear Guard for Commanding Lead Early in Game to Coast to Easy Triumph —Establishes Modern Record—Move to Toronto for Third Fixture

By ELMER DULMAGE
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

DETROIT, April 7. — Detroit Red Wings, soaring with unerring precision towards heights that would establish them as one of the great hockey teams of all time, conquered Toronto Maple Leafs 9-4 here tonight, in the second game of the Stanley Cup series. The score established a modern play-off record. The Wings can complete a non-stop title flight by winning at Toronto on Thursday night. They won the first game here on Sunday night, 3-1.

WALLY KILREA

Superb in their fifth consecutive play-off victory since finishing first in the National Hockey League's American Section, the Red Wings reached a stage only one step removed from their objective. They need only another victory to achieve rating with the immortal squadrons of the sport.

Not since Boston defeated Montreal Canadiens for the N.H.L. title in three straight, then downed New York Rangers in two straight for the Stanley Cup classic has a team flashed through the play-off zone unbeaten. In 1929, when the Bruins accomplished the feat, the final series was a best-of-three affair.

In full flight, able to score almost at will against the Leafs, the Red Wings will be heavily favored to end the series Thursday night. They have convinced even the most skeptical that Jack Adams' champions can scarcely be beaten this season.

The Red Wings ran in three goals in the first period tonight—and it was all over except the unnecessary scoring. They did the same thing in the first game, bagging three without delay. There was no part of the Toronto defence able to halt these early charges.

MODERN RECORD

The Wings went on to establish a modern scoring record for play-offs, with the help of the beaten Leafs. No other play-off contest since the N.H.L. expanded in 1926-27 yielded thirteen goals.

But it wasn't in building up a big goal total that the Wings demonstrated extraordinary power. It was the way they took on the speed-mad Leafs at the start and raced in for the early and important tallies.

Wally Kilrea, Marty Barry and Herbie Lewis sang these early goals that tumbled the fighting Leaf machine. Each time the Wings flicked the puck from stock to stock while skating at top speed. The shooting part was easy. George Hainsworth, veteran Toronto goaler, was alone, and no netman could have blocked the drives from just outside his goal crease.

When Toronto came back with a goal at 12:35 in the first period, indicating they would have further to say about the outcome, the Wings slashed back. Bucko McDonald, broad-shouldered idol of the second balconies and hero of Detroit's first victory over the Leafs, broke away after serving a penalty and scored, to put Detroit ahead, 4-1.

That was merely a sign that the Wings could rally after each setback. Out there with a club that has never conceded defeat, the Wings yielded three goals in the last two periods, and they punched in five on their own account. While their own defence wobbled seldom under the barrage from Leaf attackers there was hardly a semblance of defence at the other end to protect Hainsworth.

Johnny Sorrell, Gordon Pettinger and McDonald collected two goals each, but they were no more prominent as members of the winning combination than Howe, Wally and Hec Kilrea, Barry, Larry Aurie, Lewis, Doug Young, Modere Bruneteau or Ebbie Goodfellow.

MAY MAKE HISTORY

The Red Wings were inspired, as they were in sending down Montreal Maroons to three straight defeats in the league title series. They hope to become the first team in history to complete two best-of-five series without defeat.

Pitted against a strong attacking force, the Detroit defence stood out as prominently as the sniping forwards. Young, McDonald, Goodfellow and Scotty Bowman gave acrobatic Normie Smith fine protection, but the fair-haired netman was forced to perform sensationally even then to keep the Toronto total down.

Buzz Boll and Bill Thoms, one of the best offensive and defensive combinations in the contest, nicked Smith for a goal each, but the goalie turned aside a half dozen others from those two that might have beaten him. Joe Primeau and Bob Davidson scored the other Leaf counters.

Summary

First Period—1, Detroit, W. Kilrea (Sorrell), 1:30; 2, Detroit, M. Barry (Bowman), 4:25; 3, Detroit, Lewis (Sorrell, Barry, Aurie), 10:05; 4, Toronto, Boll (Thoms), 12:35; 5, Detroit, McDonald (H. Kilrea), 16:55. Penalties: Clancy, Horner, Barry and McDonald.

CALAVERAS IN CLOSE VICTORY

Narrow Finish at Wire Decides Feature Race at Tanforan Track

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7 (AP).—Outrunning the field in a hard drive to the wire, Calaveras, owned by Charles Hartwell, California breeder, won today's feature race at Tanforan track. It was a six-furlong dash in the time of 1:13 1-5.

Blackmail ran second, a neck behind Calaveras, and Blue Lillian was third.

The post-time favorite, Gateway, was in tight around the turn and was unable to make up ground.

Calaveras paid $13.20, $6.60 and $4.20. Blackmail returned $13.40 and $7.60 and Blue Lillian $6.20.

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON

The Orphan Bridge—Des Moines has quite an impressive looking bridge spanning the ravine at Salt Water Park, standing alone and useless. It just spans the ravine. The bridge, built of reinforced concrete at a cost of more than $53,000, is F.P.W.A. Project No. 4145—going from nowhere to nowhere, and inaccessible both to foot and vehicular traffic for the lack of approaches to both ends of the bridge.

WINNIPEG, April 7 (CP) — First hockey team from British Columbia to reach the finals of the Allan Cup, Kimberley Dynamiters went through a brisk workout here today in preparation for the opening game of their series against Sudbury Falcons Thursday night.

The big, husky Coast squad practised with Saskatoon Wesleys, Western Canada's junior champions, who are awaiting the call to Toronto for the finals of the Memorial Cup.

Ken Moore, formerly with Regina Pats and on Canada's 1932 Olympic hockey team (the Winnipegs), received an ovation from the railbirds that watched Dynamiters work out. The team will practice daily until the series opens.

Remember When

(Twenty-Five Years Ago)

Victoria, 13; Snohomish, 1.

If action is what the fans want they got it yesterday in bunches. The visitors are those who came here last Summer and rolled Wattalet's Colts in the dust. They have the reputation of being the fastest fielding squad of the semi-pro class in the Northwest. But this time they didn't live up to their "rep." It was an off day for them. They could not hit either Lane or McCreery, the Islanders' slab performers, and made matters worse by fumbling, muffing and hesitating in the field. Wattalet surely got his revenge.

* * *

Victoria and Snohomish engage in a second argument at the Royal Athletic ball yard this afternoon, the match starting at 2.45 o'clock, in order to give the visitors an opportunity to catch the afternoon boat for the Sound.

Although yesterday's game was something of a walkover for the Islanders, there is nothing certain about the pending battle. The visitors are going after the honors in real earnest. Their manager gave them a heart to heart talk last night and they must be on their good behavior or the axe may fall. Besides, Oriel is going to be at shortstop, having recovered from a strained leg received in one of the team's recent matches at Seattle. Stevens will pitch. He is a well-known slab artist, having been sought by Memphis, with which club he signed but has refused to report for duty. He is expected to give the local hitters a real test.

World's Best Riders May Compete in City

Lew Rush States That Leading Bike Experts Will Show Here in Sprint Events and Team Races If Track Is Constructed

There's a possibility of seeing some of the best six-day bike riders on the continent in action in the city this Summer, according to Lew Rush, Victoria boy who has made good in fast company. Rush is in the city at present after competing in several races in California cities such as San Francisco, Oakland, San Diego and Los Angeles. He intends to settle here and go into business in the near future and then just take bike racing as a hobby.

Rush figures that if Victorians can construct a wooden track this year that arrangements can be made to bring some of the world's best riders to the city following the proposed race in Vancouver as part of the golden jubilee programme. If plans go through there will not be a six-day race but sprint events, team matches and other competitions for the riders.

Not so long ago there was some talk about building a bike track on some property off Garbally Road between Gorge Road and Douglas Street. It was discussed by cycle dealers, Victoria and Saanich Councils and other prominent sportsmen and therefore the project is still a strong possibility.

RIDES FOR SAUNDERS

Rush has been under contract to Eddie Saunders, Dreamland Stadium, of San Francisco, who, he considers, the best promoter in the six-day business today. The local rider receives a straight salary and a bonus, which he figures a much better offer than Eastern promoters can make. He was offered a contract to ride in New York earlier this year but would not accept it after seeing the figures given him by a promoter named John Chapman. "It wasn't worth the trouble of leaving California for," stated Rush.

Rush, who has ridden on most of the big tracks in the East, including Chicago, Cleveland, Minneapolis, Milwaukee and several others, has great praise for the team of Germans, Kilian and Vopel. He says that the Teuton duo is probably the strongest combination in the six-day racing game today. "They never seem to tire and set a terrific pace from the opening day. The only rider in the game who will chase the Germans in a big race is "Torchy" Peden, Victoria's great rider. The rest of the boys let the Kilian - Vopel combination breeze around the oval gaining laps, but not "Torchy," continued the Victorian.

TO VISIT JAPAN

Rush intends to ride on and off on the Coast. If everything goes as planned at present, Rush will go on a tour of Japan in November with hopes of introducing the six-day game in the Orient. A party of twenty from California will invade Japan, including riders, track officials and promoters. Races will be staged in Tokio, Yokohama and Shanghai as well as Honolulu en route to the Orient. All these places should draw thousands of spectators, especially Japan, which is becoming more bike-minded every day.

LEW RUSH

Four of the California riders will go to Japan by the China Clipper. The fare on this giant dirigible is $750 one way.

"I have been in the professional bike game for four years and would not discourage any boy from making his living from this sport. The connections you make is worth it, and, as for myself, I would not trade my experience for $10,000 in cash," concluded Rush.

Crosetti Is Injured

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., April 7 (AP). —Frank Crosetti, first-string shortstop of New York Yankees, suffered a slight fracture of the nose and severe abrasions of the face today when he was struck by a foul tip.

Crosetti was "floored" by the foul tip, off Tony Lazzeri's bat during batting practice. He will be out of the line-up for four or five days.

Decision Over St. Saviours Will Give Locals Inter-City Football League Championship—Officials Announce Team After Last Workout—Kick-Off Set for 2:30 o'Clock

Westminster Royals	10	3	4	3	17	22	9
Rangers	10	3	5	2	19	27	8
St. Saviours	9	1	4	4	14	21	6

Final Game—Friday afternoon at the Royal Athletic Park, Victoria United vs. St. Saviours; referee, T. M. Robb. Kick-off 2:30 clock.

Victoria United, second berth occupants of the Inter-City Football League, one point behind the league-leading North Shore United, will make a determined bid for their second straight championship, Good Friday afternoon, at the Royal Athletic Park, when they battle the visiting St. Saviours, Mainland eleven, in the last fixture on the schedule.

Officials of the local club, at their meeting yesterday evening in The Colonist board room, named a strong team for this important fixture, in which Victoria United must register a win to capture the laurels. Eleven players—those who have been responsible for keeping the local squad close to the top in the title chase—were selected by the executive members to represent Victoria United in this final match.

LOCAL SQUAD

Guarding the sticks will be the veteran netminder, Louis De Costa, rated as the outstanding goalie in British Columbia. In front of him as fullbacks will be that pair of sturdy defenders, Sammy Essler and Freddy Gibbons, defence players who have turned in many stellar performances for the local club during the season.

With the clever Roy Barnes in the pivot position, Ronnie Williams on the right flank, and Glen Robbins on the opposite wing, the intermediate line is as strong as anything that the local club has trotted out this season. All three are fast, good tacklers and should prove quite a stumbling block to any offensive play attempted by the visitors.

Gordon Bell, elusive and flashy winger, and "Scotty" Stewart, tricky ball manipulator, will comprise the local right wing. This combination is strong as any on the Coast, and with the boys playing their usual game, should prove a source of worry to the Mainland defence. George Payne, the youngster with a bullet drive, and Noel Morgan, fleet-footed and hard-driving forward, will form the opposite wing. John Watt, veteran of many hectic cup struggles, will assume his regular berth in the pivot position of the attacking line.

Joe Watt, Jack Cook, "Scotty" Robinson and Bill Boyd have been named as substitutes and will probably see action during the match.

Ed Whyte will manage the team.

GAMES SATURDAY

Friday's Inter-City Football League will be the start of a heavy schedule for local soccer elevens, with four games scheduled the following day, two in the first division and a like number in the second division.

The first division squads will clash in a twin bill at the enclosure. In the curtain-raiser, Esquimalt, league leaders, will battle the second-place Victoria West eleven, with the kick-off set for 2:30 o'clock. W. J. Cull will handle the whistle.

In the afterpiece, scheduled to commence at 4 o'clock, Victoria City, victors over Esquimalt last Saturday in the local final of the Province Cup series, will battle the cellar-occupant Saanich Thistles. J. C. Dowds will toot the whistle.

The second division matches will see Victoria West and Saanich Thistles playing at Bullen Park, with Ai McKinnon in charge, while at the Heywood Avenue grounds, Victoria City will do battle with Esquimalt. Dave Swan will officiate. Kick-offs are set for 2:45 o'clock.

Cross, immediately after the race.

WORKOUTS ARE CARDED HERE

Candidates for Connaught Cup Team Will Be Asked to Attend Training Sessions

Officials of the Victoria United Football Club announced yesterday evening that commencing next Wednesday evening, weekly workouts for candidates of Victoria's Connaught Cup squad, will be staged at the Royal Athletic Park. Twenty-two players, named previously by the committee, will be asked to attend the sessions.

Three clubs, Victoria West, Victoria City and the Saanich Thistles, have signified their intention of co-operating in the move for a lone local entry in the Connaught Cup series, it was learned yesterday evening, with Esquimalt still to be heard from. The opinion was expressed, however, that the players of the dockyard village club would cast their lot with the Victoria United entry, but official confirmation from Esquimalt, as to their position in the matter, has yet to be received by officials of the Victoria United Club.

While still awaiting a reply from the Esquimalt Football Club to their letter of some weeks ago, Victoria United officials, at their meeting yesterday evening, decided to go ahead with their plans for one local entry in the Dominion championship series.

CAMPBELL AND GOODMAN WILL BE FAVORITES

Seattle Golf Star Chosen To Replace Little as King Of Amateurs

AUGUSTA, Pa., April 7 (AP).—In this year's race for amateur golfing honors, yielded by Lawson Little, Jr., after a two-year winning streak at home and abroad, the rail-birds figure Seattle's brilliant young Albert "Scotty" Campbell to set the pace, with Omaha's Johnny Goodman the most outstanding challenger. A poll of players and newspapermen by the Associated Press, following the stormy battle of Augusta, today revealed Campbell a slight choice over Goodman, 14 to 11, with Walter Emery, of Oklahoma, runner-up to Little last year in the national amateur, and Charley Yates, of Atlanta, the Western amateur titleholder, as other members of a prospective "big four" nucleus for America's Walker Cup team this year.

SCOTTY CAMPBELL

Campbell dashed out in front in the tournament test here, which marked Little's debut as a professional. "Scotty" shot a 68 on his third round, finished as low amateur with 302, and led Goodman, a former national open champion, by thirteen strokes.

Bob Jones praised Campbell's shotmaking ability highly after a practice round with the Seattle youth.

Security Prices Drop Slightly at New York Mart

NEW YORK, April 7 (AP). — The utilities and a few specialties bucked profit-taking trends in today's stock market which were centered principally in the recent steel and motor stalwarts.

While 527 issues registered losses on the day against 177 advances, bullish forces were consoled by the fact that trading volume dwindled appreciable on the setback.

Brokers were inclined to attribute the reversal largely to technical factors involved in the steady advance which has witnessed but one small average decline since March 27.

The Associated Press average of sixty stocks fell back .3 of a point to 64.3. Transfers totaled only 1,671,550 shares, compared with 2,115,048 yesterday. The rail and industrial composites were each down .4, while that of the utilities emerged .1 higher.

Lacking stimulation from outside sources, and absorbed in distributing one of the largest foreign issues marketed here in several years, the bond market held to a narrow course with the underlying tone steady.

A banking syndicate reported early over-subscription to the $31,500,000 Kingdom of Norway 4½'s, which were offered at 97½ and interest.

Advances of minor amounts were shown by United States Rubber 5's at 107, and Chile Copper 5's at 102.

A one-point rise in Rio de Janeiro 8's to 19, and fractional improvement in a number of other South American issues helped the foreign department to keep well balanced. Italian issues were mixed.

WHEAT PRICES GAIN SLIGHTLY

Heavy Export Buying Continues at Winnipeg With Values Shade Higher

WINNIPEG, April 7 (CP).—Importers found Canadian wheat to their liking today as futures prices fluctuated nervously on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. At the close of an irregular session, net gains of ⅛ to ¼ cent were scored.

Export sales of Canada's chief commodity totaled 1,250,000 bushels, but this proved barely sufficient to take care of heavy selling. The May option finished at 79⅞, July 80⅞ and October 81⅞ cents.

Coarse prices were fractionally higher in quiet trading, while operations were featureless in the cash grain section.

Recession in Liquor Stocks Leads Decline At Eastern Markets

MONTREAL, April 7 (CP).—Late liquidation, occasioned by heavy selling on liquor shares, depressed a narrow list on Montreal Stock Exchange today.

Steel of Canada preferred at 59 1-4 and common at 66 both touched their best level in several years with fractional gains. The common, however, eased slightly from the day's high to close up 1-2.

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

SUB ROSA

Thousands of years old is this expression connoting secrecy. And even older than the expression itself is the incident in which it is asserted to be rooted.

In the dim long ago when the Greek gods so blithely engaged in high doings of a low order and from Olympus' mighty peaks settled the problems of the world with alcoholic finality, Cupid gave Harpocrates a rose—as a bribe to keep mum on the amours of Venus.

It is from this bit of ancient legendary lore that the rose is alleged to have become the symbol of silence—a symbol further entrenched in its niche among our institutions by the consecrated roses placed above Roman Catholic confessionals.

Among the Teutons, incidentally, it was common to have a sculptured rose part and parcel of the decorations of every dining-room—a gentle hint to the guests that table talk was privileged.

(Copyright, 1936, by Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Jane Dixon Says:

IT IS UP TO YOU TO DETERMINE WHETHER CRITICISM IS HONEST OR VENOMOUS

Today's problem is rather amusing, and so tremendously human.

Each and every one of us has a desire—it's instinct really—to improve the conditions under which we live.

The instinct is sound.

It's desire, our own interpretation of the design for bigger and better living, that distorts our vision and defeats our end.

We want to improve our lot. To be more attractive, more interesting, to wear better clothes, to say brighter things, to do bigger deeds. To eat more palatable food, to go to more worthwhile places, to meet more influential people, to have more money, more beauty, more power.

And to do this, we know we must rid ourselves of our faults.

Dear Miss Dixon: What is your opinion of friends who tell us about our faults?

A friend of mine talks about her own faults a lot, says she knows she does the wrong thing frequently, and doesn't mind in the least when she's brought to scratch.

IS SHE FOOLING HERSELF?

I wonder if she really believes she doesn't mind? Is she only fooling herself? She says she can take it because so much fault-finding existed in her childhood.

My guess is she has a complex. I don't know its name—but there it is.

Only recently this friend told me I talked and laughed too loud—two things I abhor. She's critical, fussy, high-strung, emotional, quick-tempered.

With all due respect to her, don't you think she has enough faults of her own to look out for without bothering about mine?

Certainly this type of person is not very comfortable to have mulling around. If I object to her fault-finding she comes back with: "I never consider it other than a compliment when a friend tries to put me straight."

It seems to me it takes sheer nerve and audacity to tell a friend what he or she ought to do, and I'm beginning to think she has an ingrowing grouch.

Please don't think I'm disloyal, but I've tried desperately to overlook what she calls "frankness," but what I call "fault-finding."

I'd think everyone would be so busy correcting their own faults they wouldn't have time locating the faults of others.—Florida.

OUR FAULTS USUALLY ESCAPE US

Answer: Your letter, Florida, is different and significant and thoroughly interesting. I'm afraid though, I must take exception to the trend of thought it limns.

For example, no matter how busy we might be examining our own faults, the major and the majority of them would escape us. If we knew them we would not make them in the first place. So that our good friends—certainly our enemies—can give us the truth about the way we look or the way we behave—not the way we think we look and behave.

In the last decade there has been a sort of faddism for telling the truth, let the chips fall where they may. Certain persons have taken advantage of this fashion to vent their spleen on those who, in one way or another, awaken antagonism.

An envious woman on the "frank" side will tell you your most becoming dress is a fright, and a jealous one will tell you your best boy friend is a dud.

It is up to you to determine whether criticism is honest or venomous. In any case, a critic, honest or otherwise, invariably looks for a peg on which to hang a fault—and this is worth remembering. In other words critics, good or bad look for vulnerable spots.

Cultivate a lower tone of voice and a rippling-brook laughter.

CANADIAN DOLLAR AND POUND RATES

MONTREAL, April 7 (P)—A loss of 1-4c was registered by pound sterling at $4.97 1-32 on Montreal foreign exchanges today, but other leading currencies were little changed. The United States dollar was even at 7-16 premium and the French franc gained .01 cent at 6.63 cents.

News of Mines

(Mara, Bate & Co., Ltd.)

Pioneer—Gross output, $220,000; expenses, $70,000; net, before depreciation, depletion and taxes, $150,000. This was better than February when low water supply retarded operations, but was below recent averages of around $270,000 gross. This was due to larger proportion of development ore as new low levels are opened up. The twenty-third level cross-cut is being pushed to contact the vein. Drifting on the vein continues on the sixteenth and seventeenth levels, development ore going to mill and resulting in lower average heads.

Bralorne—Production for the last month was 4,401 ounces of gold from 14,062 tons. This compares with 3,522 ounces for February. March production had an approximate value of $154,000 at $35 gold.

Siscoe—Output, $200,155 from 14,359 tons, against $191,073 from 12,996 tons in February.

Island Mountain—For the month, recovered 1,361.46 ounces of gold, worth $57,101.10, from 3,569 tons. Recovery for the first quarter totaled $163,851 from 4,681 ounces of gold taken from 10,250 tons of ore.

Relief Arlington—Directors of Relief Arlington Mines, Ltd., were re-elected Monday at the annual meeting in the Vancouver Hotel. They are Bert F. Smith, president and managing director; F. J. Rowlands, D. N. Hossie, K.C., W. H. Mowat and T. K. Gray. Mr. Smith reported on number seven level of the Second Relief, which has recently been cut. He said work has progressed 244 feet with ore averaging .71 ounce of gold across twenty-five inches. In this mine an aggregate of 2,673 feet of drifts, cross-cuts, raises and shafts was driven at an average cost of $19.13 per foot. The principal development underground consisted of sinking the shaft from number five to number six level. The drifting of number six level disclosed an ore body 1,152 feet long assaying .50 ounce of gold over an average width of twenty-two inches, the managing director stated.

Perron Gold Mines—It is reported that the estimated production at Perron Gold Mines for the month of March was valued at $26,000 from amalgamation. The new 125-ton mill was placed in operation in February this year, and it is expected that recovery from the new mill will aggregate $40,000 monthly.

McIntyre Porcupine closed its fiscal year with March 31. When the accounting is completed for the period it will likely be found that net earnings after taxes and all charges were approximately $4.50 a share. It should also be shown of at least indicated that net cash assets have a market worth of about $12,000,000 or $15 a share. It may also be shown that ore reserves have increased to nearly or about $40,000,000. They were worth $38,500,000 at the beginning of the year.

MacLeod Cockshutt—Good indications of gold ore have been obtained by MacLeod Cockshutt Gold Mines in diamond drilling close to its east boundary with the Hard Rock Gold Mine. The first hole, spotted fifty feet from the line, returned $13 per ton across seven feet at a depth of 230 feet. The second hole, located 100 feet farther west, gave three ore intersections; $10.85 across 2.5 feet at a depth of 181 feet, $21 across 7.5 feet. The second intersection in this hole included $60.90 across 2.5 feet, and the third could be taken as $6.30 across 32.5 feet.

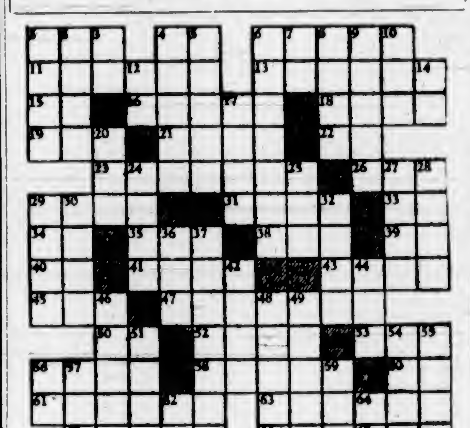

Argosy Mine reports that number two vein has been cut at the fifth level in high grade ore with values in the north face of $32.60 across 3.3 feet and values in the south face of $115.50 across two feet. At the time twelve feet of vein length only showed in the drift and the values reported were the average over-all.

Pamour Porcupine—At a meeting of directors of Pamour Porcupine Mines and Noranda Mines held this week, arrangements were made for the latter company to advance Pamour Porcupine whatever money is required to complete the latter's 500-ton mill programme and provide appropriate working capital for that tonnage. The exact amount has not been determined. The money will be loaned on an open note.

Mining Corporation, in its report for the year ended December 31, 1935, shows net profit of $42,457, equal to 2.4 cents a share on the 1,754,006 shares outstanding. President J. G. C. Waite states it is the intention to undertake a vigorous exploration campaign with the object of acquiring interests in mining properties by staking purchase of under option agreements.

Minto Returns—Returns from Tacoma Smelter on the first car load of high grade ore shipped from the Minto Mine were received Monday by A. G. Larsen, engineer of the company, and were much better than any company estimates. The ore ran 6.48 ounces in gold, compared with mine estimate of five ounces, and the returns for the car were about $9,300, up $1,000 over Mr. Larsen's estimate. As a result of this higher return, the company will continue to ship high grade crude ore, John A. Hallberg, director, announced. Two more car loads are now rolling to Tacoma. Another car, which could have been shipped in March, was held back, but even without this recovery for the month will be over $35,000, Mr. Hallberg said. Assays for the last three rounds in the river level tunnel showed values still running around one ounce in gold with the face still as strong as ever. The high grade is now in some 215 feet. Wire from Bridge River states special assays taken from face yesterday ran $34.30 per ton. Assayer said sample was spotty.

LIFE INSURANCE BUSINESS GAINS

E. H. Hanley, Supervisor of Agencies, North American Life Assurance Co., Is Here

Business is showing a general increase in all branches, not only in a large volume of insurance being placed for protection purposes, but people of wealth are turning to life insurance as a safe channel for their investment funds, reported E. H. Hanley, Toronto, supervisor of agencies for the North American Life Assurance Company, on his arrival here Monday. He is on an inspection tour of Western branches and is registered at the Empress Hotel.

Speaking more particularly of British Columbia, Mr. Hanley observed that conditions were very much improved since his last visit to the Coast. The supervisor made special reference to the volume and quality of business which the company was receiving from the Victoria agency.

"For many years," he said, "our highest quality of business has been written here on Vancouver Island, which speaks volume for those in charge of our local office."

Mr. Hanley will be in the city until today. While here, he is conferring with James W. Hudson, C.L.U., who, last month, concluded twenty-one years as manager of the local office of Vancouver Island.

WILL GIVE ADDRESS ON LEAGUE OF NATIONS

LANGFORD, April 7.— The monthly meeting of the Langford Parent-Teacher Association will be held in the schoolhouse, Wednesday, at 8 p.m. Mr. Ravenhill, of Victoria, will give an address on "The League of Nations."

THESE FACTS ABOUT BRAN HAVE BEEN PROVED BY TESTS

Supplies Gently Acting "Bulk" to Aid Regular Habits

Now and then, in talking with your friends, the subject of bran has come up. So that real facts might replace unsupported opinions, the Kellogg Company has aided for some years research in leading nutrition laboratories.

Studies made on a group of healthy women showed that two tablespoonfuls of bran daily continued to relieve constipation* over a period of months. How different from cathartics—where dosage often must be increased.

Another series of tests on men indicated that, with some people, the "bulk" in bran was much more effective than that found in fruits and vegetables.

Further tests showed that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provided vitamin B and iron as well as "bulk." Thin "bulk" absorbs moisture, and gently exercises and cleanses the system — the right way to correct constipation.

Serve ALL-BRAN regularly for regularity. Either as a cereal, with milk or cream, or in cooked dishes. It is a natural laxative food. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

*Constipation due to insufficient "bulk"

With All My Heart

BY SARA CHRISTY

CHAPTER XXXIII

Thora found herself thinking of her first meeting with All Babba, how his manner had seemed to change with the discarding of his monocle. He had done it again . . . uttered his last words—about betting on race horses—in a vernacular that did not fit his earlier drawling expressions. She was puzzling it over in her mind, when he spoke again.

"Ever been over on the other side?" Babbas asked.

"No, I never have."

"You could do rather well for yourself over there, I fancy. Take a job of some sort . . . you know, for the travel and experience. I'm not sure I couldn't do something for you. Maybe you'd like to go back with Wilma and me."

"You plan to live in Europe?" was Thora's reply to that suggestion.

"Oh, eventually. I came over this time sooner than I expected to and my plans are rather up in the air. It all depends. Did Wilma happen to tell you how we met?"

"No."

"Very unexpected, you know. If anybody would have told me that I was coming to the States to be married, I'd have said he was balmy. I tried it once before . . . no good. Just shows you never know what will turn up." He flipped his cigarette across the path and into a flower bed. "I'll be glad when it's all done with. Frightful bother." Babbas displayed his perfect teeth in a cheerful smile.

"Is it?"

"Rather. I'm not keen on all this exhibition rot . . . not half-bad loafing around like this, though. You know I'm getting quite thick with the old gentleman, now. Made a hit with him by listening to him tell about that book he's doing. I haven't the faintest notion what it's all about, but he became quite chummy when I told him we had some diaries and whatnot at home dating back a few hundred years. Told him I'd ship the lot over when I got back . . maybe he could write another work or two."

"That sounds very interesting."

"I couldn't get up any fever about them. But it gave me an inside track, all right. We've had no end of chats about business. The old boy is very keen on things . . . wouldn't wonder if we might get together on a proposition some friends and I are working on. That's one reason I came over when I did."

"I see." Thora said it thoughtfully. For some reason, she couldn't imagine Mr. Marsh going into business with All Babba. But he must be a very shrewd man and . . . it was none of her affair, after all.

"We have one bond of sympathy," Babbas continued, with something very near a chuckle. "It looks to me as if your boss was headed for the altar. That little brass-headed widow sure is giving him the works. Guess you've noticed. I suppose she figures the old boy will be lonesome . . . with Wilma gone. Not a bad looker for her age, either. Clever, don't you think?"

"I have a very slight acquaintance with Mrs. Steele," Thora remarked composedly. She was gathering up her flowers preparatory to leaving.

"I wouldn't expect the two of you to be very pally," Babbas offered, taking another cigarette from his case. "She probably is afraid you might throw a wrench into her machine. The old boy likes you no end."

"If you will excuse me, I must go in and get to work."

"Righto. If Wilma shows up, tell her I'm out here . . . like a good girl."

Thora's cheeks were flushed as she started to the house. She thought that she had revised her feelings towards Mr. Babbas after their first encounter. His manner had always been restrained and courteous when she had been in his company. He was deferential to Mr. Marsh and his relationship to Wilma was marked by assiduous little attentions in the presence of others, never overdone. Wilma was much more frank in the display of her affection, Thora thought.

And she particularly resented the remarks Babbas had made about Mr. Marsh and Mrs. Steele.

The latter had been at Fair Acres very often and seemed to have assumed direction of its social activities. Thora had thought nothing of it, from what she had been able to observe. It was only natural that Mrs. Steele would be trying to fill the place that would have belonged to Wilma's mother at such a time. In the natural order of things, Mrs. Steele would be paired with Mr. Marsh when the family entertained or was being entertained.

It had not occurred to Thora that Mrs. Steele was playing a new game of her own, yet the suggestion thrown out by All Babba was unpleasant. She would hate to see any man the prey of a woman's scheming . . . a woman like Mrs. Steele. Thora was reminded of what Mrs. Myron had said. "If there was some'ing to happen, something to upset him . . . she might badger him into taking her." Perhaps this sudden love affair of Wilma might furnish the "upset." Even though the father and daughter were not close to each other, Mr. Marsh would undoubtedly miss Wilma when she went out of his life. Things would be different at Fair Acres.

Thora was still turning this matter over in her mind when she entered the dining-room to find Sherman Gordon there, prowling about in search of food, as he explained cheerfully.

"I was wondering where the dickens you were," he complained. "I was supposed to meet the love birds and Mrs. Dorothy here . . . the ladies had an idea they wanted to start early to avoid the mob. I should have known . . " he finished plaintively.

"Mr. Babbas is up." Thora volunteered. "He is out in the garden. I was talking to him just now."

"Ah, a tryst. See here, young woman . . don't you know that I'm the only man you're supposed to meet in the wee small hours?"

"I had quite forgotten." Thora admitted smilingly. "Isn't Mr. Marsh playing with you?"

"Say! If there was any chance of his being dragged out on the links this time of day, you don't think for a minute I'd be here, do you?"

"I didn't know."

"I do. Five is a crowd, with that bunch." From the smile that accompanied his words, Thora knew that he was referring to Mrs. Steele. Then he had noticed, too.

"Otherwise," Sherman continued calmly, "I would have waited until they cleared out, then I would have had you all to myself for a visit. I think it would be very nice for us to have some coffee together while we are waiting for the clans to gather. How about it?"

The smile he gave her was so infectious that Thora found herself agreeing to the suggestion.

"This is fine." Gordon beamed a little later, as he accepted the cup Thora handed him. "I hope the alarm clocks fail to work and that All Babba falls asleep among the flowers. By the way, how is that chap early in the morning . . before he has time to climb into his monocle?"

"Quite good-natured, I thought."

"He's rather hard to become acquainted with, I find. But I sort of like him, the more I see of him. I take it back . . . I hate him. He's coming up the path now." Gordon lowered his voice and spoke rapidly. "There's a polo lesson early tomorrow. I'll be waiting . . . same place. Ah . . ." His voice rose. "Good morning, Alec. You're looking very fit."
